BOSTON LAWYER IS FOUND GUILTY OF FRAUD

OFFICIAL PARADE ROSTER

M'KNIGHT FIGHTS VERDICT

Convicted of Illegal Use of the Mails in Property Deal With a Maine Millionaire

Harmon P. McKnight was found guilty today in the United States District Court on two counts of using the United States mails to defraud. He announced his intention to appeal and was given until Tuesday. The case was tried before Judge James B. Morton, jr., and a jury.

McKnight was accused of fraudulently conveying land belonging to the estate of the late John Cassidy, Bangor millionaire, to himself through the North Carolina Traction Company." He acted as his own attorney throughout.

The case hinged on the identity of McKnight as a former prisoner in the Ohio State penitentiary. His Bertillon measurements play an important part in the evidence.

He was positively identified yesterday by former Deputy Warden John Carrington and Officer Davis of the Ohio Penitentiary as a former prisoner. Carrington is eighty-two. McKnight fought their evidence and demanded that the Bertillon system be applied to him to refute their testimony. The case was halted by Judge Morton that his request might be granted. After applying the tests police officials announced that there was practically no variation from those submitted by the Ohio officials.

McKnight stated today that the question of identity would be the basis of his appeal.

During questions put by Assistant Shea at the trial McKnight admitted that he had lived in Ohio. He has recently occupied an office on Union Park street, South End, where he was known as "Dr." McKnight.

ADRIATIC PROBLEM STILL BAFFLES PEACE ENVOYS

By International News Service.

London, April 11.—From reliable sources it was learned today that President Wilson will shortly issue a memorandum in an attempt to solve the Adriatic problem. If it fails to satisfy the Italian peace delegates, it is said, an ultimatum will be issued.

Central News dispatch from Paris.

The "Adriatic problem" involves the dispute between Italy and the Jugo-Slavs over territory bordering the northern shores of the Adriatic Sea. The chief contention is over the port of Fiume.

FIRE-DAMAGED SCYTHIAN SAILS WITH BIG CARGO

The Leyland liner Scythian, which was damaged to the extent of $50,000 by fire last week at the East Boston dock, sailed today for London, nearly a week behind her schedule time. It carries 2,000 tons of flour, 1,000 tons of pork, 500 tons of sugar, 100 tons of breakfast foods, 250 tons of rope and twine, 175 tons of tobacco and a large consignment of general merchandise.

400,000 R. R. Workers Get $60,000,000 in Increased Wages

By International News Service.

Washington, April 11.—Wage readjustments affecting 400,000 railroad workers and aggregating increases of more than $60,000,000 a year were announced today by Director-General Hines of the Railroad Administration. The new schedule is retroactive to January 1. The new scale, together with a comparison with the average wage in effect during 1917, before the roads were under Federal control, follow:

	New scale.	1917.	Increase.
Pass. conductors, per mo.	$180.00	$135.00-$165	$15.00-$45.00
Baggagemen	124.80	71.50- 105	19.50- 53.30
Passenger brakemen	120.00	68.75- 90	30.00- 51.25
Passenger engineers, per day.	5.79	4.47	1.32
Passenger firemen	4.21	2.98	1.23
Freight conductors	5.40	4.09	1.31
Freight brakemen	4.08	2.73	1.35
Freight engineers	6.64	5.33	1.31
Freight firemen	4.81	3.33	1.48
Yard conductors	5.33	3.87	1.46
Yard brakemen	5.00	3.47	1.53
Yard engineers	5.72	4.20	1.52
Yard firemen	4.25	2.72	1.53

In the East 60 per cent. of the passenger conductors, brakemen and baggagemen already are receiving the higher rate and will get the less increase as shown above. In the West and South 80 per cent. receive the higher rate and will get the less increase.

LAWRENCE CHIEF DEFIED BY MRS. EVANS

Brookline Woman to Do Picket Duty Despite Police Warning

Mrs. Elizabeth Glendower Evans of Brookline has defied City Marshal Timothy O'Brien of Lawrence in a letter made public today. Mrs. Evans declares her intention to return to Lawrence and picket in behalf of striking mill operatives.

"I shall walk up and down Essex street if I desire to do so," says the writer.

Some time ago, following a visit of Mrs. Evans to Lawrence, O'Brien warned her that she should be held accountable for any disorder that might occur on the streets.

Mrs. Evans has recently been in New York, where she spoke on the Lawrence strike and raised funds in a Fifth avenue church for the strikers.

Her letter to City Marshal O'Brien follows:

"I hereby inform you that it is my purpose to picket in behalf of the striking mill operatives, as I have not done—at an early date. I shall picket strictly within the law, and I have taken pains to inform myself of the provision of the law. After picketing I shall walk up and down Essex street if I desire to do so.

"I have so far foregone my rights to picket and to walk upon the streets of Lawrence chiefly because it has been impossible for me to be at Lawrence during picketing hours.

"You were candid enough some two weeks since to advise me that if, when I was on the streets of Lawrence, any disorder should occur, I was liable to be held accountable. I personally shall refrain from any attempt to promote such disorder.

"Very truly yours,

"ELIZABETH GLENDOWER EVANS."

BOY OF 8 STOLEN IN AUTO

Little Edward Greenan Carried Off on Way From School in Roxbury

What may develop into a second Charley Ross kidnaping case is the disappearance of little Edward J. Greenan of Roxbury, who was last seen in Roxbury yesterday afternoon getting into the automobile of a man who had given him thirteen cents.

The disappearance of the child has aroused the neighborhood of his home, No. 19 Bromley park, and men and women of that section of Roxbury are co-operating with the police in their efforts to locate the mysterious automobile that is believed to have taken the child away.

Edward, who is eight years old, kissed his mother goodby after the dinner hour yesterday and trotted contentedly back to school. Miss Hilton, teacher of the second grade of the Parker school, said that he attended the afternoon session and was dismissed with the other children at 2:20 o'clock.

Nothing has been seen of him since, except by a fourteen-year-old boy, who said that "a man gave Edward thirteen cents and took him away in a black automobile."

Mrs. Greenan notified the police at 6 o'clock and the search has been kept up ever since.

The mother, who is nearly frantic, says the boy is rather stocky in build, has brown eyes and brown hair and a scar on the bridge of his nose. When he left for school he wore a blue cap, brown mixed mackinaw, brown corduroy trousers, blue blouse and tie, Boy Scout shoes and black stockings.

BAVARIAN-GERMAN BREAK IS DENIED

By ALFRED G. ANDERSEN,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

Berlin, April 11.—The private secretary of Von Preger, Bavarian minister to Berlin, today denied that he had received a letter from the Bavarian soviet government instructing Preger to present his resignation, thus breaking off relations with the German government. He added that if the letter arrived Preger would pay no attention to it since he represents the Hoffman government.

THREE TRANSPORTS DOCK TODAY WITH 4,000 MEN

New York, April 12.—Three transports were scheduled to dock in New York today with 4,000 American soldiers from overseas. The Holland American liner Rotterdam, which arrived last night, was the first to reach her pier. Liners due were the Turrialba, from St. Nazaire and the Pantonia from Brest.

OLD CLOTHES MAN SETS UP GERMAN REPUBLIC

By Universal Service.

London, April 11.—A republic has been proclaimed in Brunswick, Germany, according to a Central News dispatch from Copenhagen. The proclamation, according to the correspondent, was issued by a local old clothes man. This man also proclaimed a general strike. Furthermore, he dismissed the government and dissolved the Diet.

RUSHING THE PEACE TREATY

More Progress in a Day Than in Previous Two Weeks; Monroe Doctrine Safe

Washington, April 11.—"More progress has been made in the past twenty-four hours than in the past two weeks," said a cablegram received at the White House today from one of the President's party.

By JOHN EDWIN NEVIN,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

Paris, April 11.—President Wilson personally announced at 2 o'clock this morning that the Monroe Doctrine had been specifically exempted from any interference by the League of Nations.

This announcement followed a session of the League of Nations committee, which started early last evening and lasted until well after 1 o'clock this morning. The committee's action represents one of the greatest victories won by the Americans to date.

The President personally moved for the adoption of the exemption clause as a specific article in the League of Nations covenant. A general debate followed and the President's motion unanimously prevailed.

GENEVA LEAGUE CAPITAL.

The League of Nations committee also selected Geneva, Switzerland, as the first home of the league.

The decisions arrived at by the committee are subject to ratification by the plenary session of the council which will be called when the report is completed.

It is the intention of a majority of members of the committee to urge that the initial meeting of the League of Nations be held in Washington next October, coincident with the meeting there of the International Labor Conference.

In addressing the League of Nations committee, President Wilson made an impassioned plea for the adoption of the clause specifically exempting the Monroe Doctrine. He declared that while it was agreed by a majority of the members of the committee that the original preamble of the League

TWO BRAKEMEN'S RIBS CRUSHED BETWEEN CARS

Two brakemen of the New Haven Railroad sustained crushed ribs today while engaged in shifting cars in the freight yards at South Boston.

Frank Carpenter, 27 years old, residing in South Sudbury, received broken ribs on his left side when he was caught between cars in Yard No. 1. A short time later, John L. Wood, 44 years old and married, living at No. 715 Shawmut avenue, Roxbury, sustained fractured ribs on the right side by being caught between cars in Yard No. 2. Carpenter was taken to the Massachusetts General Hospital and Wood to the Haymarket Square Relief Station. Both men will recover.

4 Per Cent. Beer Bill Reported to R. I. Senate

Providence, April 11.—After a long session the Senate Judiciary Committee voted unanimously to report today a bill that will legalize the sale of 4 per cent. beer in Rhode Island. It is called the "Suppressing Intemperance Act." The argument used was, that the Federal government failed to clearly define what was meant by "intoxicating liquors." According to the tenth amendment of the Constitution, the police of the different States are allowed to define and determine what may be called "intoxicating beer."

NAME WHITMAN AT 'SLUSH FUND' HEARING

New York Ex-Governor and Other Finance Leaders Mentioned in Trolley Fare Case

By International News Service.

Albany, N. Y., April 11.—The names of ex-Governor Charles S. Whitman, Stephen P. Shonts, president of the Interboro Railway in New York city; John B. Stanchfield, lawyer; Nicholas F. Brady, J. Pierpont Morgan and other lesser lights in the financial world, were today mentioned as being connected with the alleged $500,000 "slush fund" and gubernatorial support promises made to State Senator George F. Thompson for favorable action on the bill pending in the Legislature to permit increased trolley fares.

The disclosures were made by Senator Thompson as witness stand before the Senate Judiciary Committee, which this morning undertook the investigation of Thompson charges of the existence of the fund.

Subtle hinting of support by the traction interests to any ambitions Senator Thompson might have for the governorship were contained in the conversation the Senator had with the former Governor in the St. Regis Hotel, New York city, on March 29 last, the Senator testified. He told in detail the conversation between himself and Mr. Whitman, during which the former Governor told him that he was the one figure upState that could be nominated on the Republican ticket for Governor in the next election.

Mr. Whitman followed up this suggestion, the Senator testified, with the assertion that Mr. Shonts had sent him to talk with Thompson about the Carson-Martin increased fares bill.

The Governor told me that he wanted me to vote for the bill," said Thompson, who added that he thought the measure provided for a republication of contracts and that under no circumstances would he support it.

Asked by counsel for Thompson, the Governor said: 'If you feel like that don't you think you could be changed? Suppose you see if you can't fix it some way to support this bill."

Hey, Bachelors of the 26th, Get Married, Says Edwards

Bachelors of the Yankee Division!

Listen to what the "Old Man" says about marriage.

The "Old Man," of course, so far as the 26th is concerned, is Major-General Clarence R. Edwards, former commander and idol of the whole division.

He advises marriage today in five punchy sentences. Here they are:

Gobble a fine partner for life. Keep your head level in the choice.

Don't wait too long before decision.

Men who have served in the army know how to weigh values.

A good wife is the best investment for any man to make.

ASKS MORE MONEY FOR SOMERVILLE STREETS

The budget presented to the Somerville Board of Aldermen by the finance committee was held up by the action of Alderman Wilbur J. Lewis, chairman of the committee on public works, who asserts that his department has been neglected. He says that an appropriation of $125,000 recommended by the mayor for new streets and resurfacing, was ignored, and the street department will be crippled unless more money is appropriated.

The budget was tabled until the next meeting, when a compromise is expected.

TWO HELD ON CHARGE OF STEALING CLOTHING

Benedict Jones of Flagg street, and David Coleman of Anderson street, both of Roxbury, were held in $1,000 each for the Grand Jury today in the Roxbury Court. They were charged with larceny of $300 worth of men's clothing. The goods in question were taken from the clothing store of Albert J. Lester, No. 1581 Washington street, Roxbury, April 1.

HAWKER READY TO FLY ATLANTIC ON FIRST GOOD DAY

St. John's, N. F., April 11.—Harry Hawker bids fair to be the first aviator to attempt the flight across the Atlantic. He declared today that he would start the first day the weather permits. He made a trial flight lasting forty minutes and declared that he was well satisfied with his Sopwith machine.

of Nations constitution exempted the Monroe Doctrine, public sentiment in the United States was insistent that the time-honored doctrine be completely protected from any possible misunderstanding.

Following his speech, the committee at once took the matter up in general debate and the unanimous agreement resulted.

ELEVEN ARTICLES COMPLETE.

Despite the fact that the President had been up since before 9 a. m. yesterday, he devoted the whole of last evening to fighting for the exemption of the Monroe Doctrine. The early part of the evening was wasted debating unimportant questions, the French delegates leading in the discussions.

They demanded that the text be printed in French alone. Other delegates insisted that the text be printed in both French and English.

Women delegates also spent much time in arguing for complete representation and equal rights.

When the League of Nations committee finally adjourned early this morning eleven articles had been completed. The Monroe Doctrine exemption clause was added as a separate article, which also included recognition of all specific agreements making for the peace of the world.

Although plainly fatigued, the President was very happy when he was leaving the committee meeting. Asked whether he could make any statement for publication, he said:

"We are making good progress."

The President explained that the Monroe Doctrine had been specifically exempted. Officials generally accepted his announcement as meaning that the greatest obstacle in the ratification of the peace treaty in the United States had been removed.

The Japanese equality amendment was not reached during the night's discussions. The Japanese delegates, when asked about it, said they had not yet made up their minds whether to press their amendment before the League of Nations committee, or wait and bring it before a meeting of the Plenary Council.

It is understood that while the debates on the various questions waxed warm at times, there was no bitterness at all. It was apparent that the delegates only desired to secure absolute agreement whereby all nations will be in accord when the treaty is finally completed.

Lodge Believes That Amended League Covenant May Satisfy the Senate

By J. BART CAMPBELL,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

Washington, April 11.—Although President Wilson's announcement that the Monroe Doctrine will be safeguarded in the League of Nations covenant was received here with enthusiasm it did not cause surprise in senatorial circles. It is now permitted to be known that confidential information that fundamental changes were being made in the original draft of the covenant has been received regularly by courier from Paris by Senate leaders of both parties, like Lodge and Hitchcock.

Much of this information, although emanating from different sources partly official and partly unofficial, already had convinced them that President Wilson would return from Paris with the covenant so amended as to overcome most of the senatorial opposition which the original developed.

While Senator Lodge has refrained from talking for publication since his recent return to the capital, he has permitted those with whom he has privately discussed the latest developments at Paris to know that he had been kept sufficiently well informed as to what was transpiring at the peace conference to cause him to entertain the belief that a league of Nations plan would be provided for in the end that would satisfy the Senate.

"Red" Leaders to Reject Peace Treaty if They Gain Control of Germany

By JOHN T. PARKERSON,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

Paris, April 11.—Spartacan leaders in Germany are now freely announcing that if they gain control of the government they will reject the peace treaty offered by the allies. They will welcome allied occupation of Germany, they add, believing it possible to win over allied troops to their cause by poisonous propaganda.

The Bolshevik delegate, Samelli, is reported to have arrived at Budapest. Bela Kun, foreign minister of the new Hungarian government, has wirelessed the Russian Bolsheviki that the Spartacan movement to overthrow Scheidemann, Noske and Ebert is growing in Germany, and that as soon as it is accomplished it will be possible to sovetize the whole of central Europe.

While a new delegation from Weimar has gone to Vienna to discuss the proposed federation of German Austria, it is said that the situation at Vienna is tending steadily toward Bolshevism, the need of food from the allies being the only restraining factor. The proposal to form a Soviet government will be discussed at a meeting of the workers' council to be held in Vienna April 4.

The direct charge from various sources that a German army is forming in the vicinity of Riga composed of veterans of the original first line German troops designed to place the Kaiser back in power also aroused considerable interest here today in connection with its possible effect on the internal situation in Germany and the spread of Bolshevism.

ADMIRAL SIMS BACK TO WAR COLLEGE TOMORROW

New York, April 11.—Vice-Admiral Sims, who returns to Newport today after an official visit in Washington, will take up his duties at the war college tomorrow. Admiral Sims is expected to take a leading part next week in the reception of the Atlantic fleet, which is due to arrive from Europe on Thursday.

DEMOBILIZING OF 'Y D' BEGUN AT DEVENS

Camp Devens, Ayer, April 11.—The disembarking of the 26th Division began today when 258 men, whose homes are outside New England, left for Camp Dix, N. J., amid the cheers of their comrades.

These are to be followed tomorrow by 395 men leaving for Camp Sherman, Ohio, and on Sunday by other contingents destined for cantonments all over the country, including 85 men for Camp Lewis in Washington State.

It was with a certain sadness that the boys of the Yankee Division parted with men from other parts of the country who had come up as replacement troops and fought shoulder to shoulder with them.

As the lads bound for Camp Dix were about to start groups of "Buddies," natives of New England, warmly grasped their hands and bade them good health and good fortune wherever they may be.

Promises were exacted from New England boys that they would visit their friends from the West or South, while those from outside of New England were equally spontaneous in pledging they will return soon to New England to renew those friendships that began in the face of danger on a far-off battlefield.

A week from tomorrow the Yankee Division will consist of nothing but New England men, and will be 10,000 below full strength, and the week following the great old fighting division will be a thing of the past, existing in memory only.

Men who fought with the New England soldiers talk enthusiastically of forming organizations of 26th Division veterans in the much divided sections of the country to which they are bound and with the hope of occasional reunions.

However remote these may be, there will always be a tender affection and understanding between the men of the original division and those who came up to fill the gaps made by others who had fallen.

The immediate destination of men of the 26th Division to other camps near their homes and the numbers to leave early next week are:

Camp Custer, Mich., 122; Dodge, Iowa, 353; Grant, Ill., 260; Kearney, Cal., 285; Taylor, Ky., 200; Bowie, Tex., 107; Fordon, Ga., 148; Lee, Va., 60; Lewis, Wash., 88; Shelby, Miss., 93; Pike, Ark., 103; Funston, Kan., 65; Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., 32; and Fort Russell, Wy., 74. Deampment of others will be announced.

One bit of news that reached camp before the departure of the first contingent and which was received with cheers by the men was the announcement from the War Department that every man will be allowed to keep his uniform permanently.

The order also refers to other military accoutrements which the men will be allowed to retain and look upon with kindly regard in the future. Those include woolen service overcoats, slip-on raincoat, shoes, leggings, belts, gloves, toilet articles, gas masks, helmets, overseas cap, four pair socks, two suits underwear, khaki shirt and breeches, besides all ornaments and chevrons.

Field artillery units were put through the military process and a few hours after their arrival in camp Batteries B, C and D of the 101st Field Artillery had passed through the "mill."

CHEAPER RATES ON ROAD BUILDING MATERIAL

Washington, April 11.—A reduction of ten cents per ton in the freight rates on sand, gravel, crushed stone and other road building materials when consigned to States, counties or municipalities, was announced by Railway Director Hines today. The order provides for a minimum of 40 cents per net ton, except in cases where the regular commercial rates are less than that amount, in which instances the regular rates will obtain.

29TH AND 33RD TO SAIL FOR HOMELAND SOON

Washington, April 11.—Assignment to early convoy of all organizations of the 29th and 33d Divisions was announced by the War Department this afternoon. About six weeks usually elapses between assignment to early convoy and actual embarkation. Base Hospital 77 and the 155th Field Artillery Brigade also have been placed on priority it was announced.

URGES MORE PAY FOR HARVARD PROFESSORS

The Harvard professorial staff should receive assurance at once that an increase in salary will be forthcoming at the start of the next academic year, says the Harvard Alumni Bulletin in an editorial published today.

Hotels Offer Free Rooms to Yankee Division Boys

Boys of the Yankee Division who are in Boston will be taken care of by Boston hotels. At a meeting of the Hotel Association it was agreed that each hotel will accommodate five or ten soldiers of the 26th Division any night, furnishing them with a room and breakfast.

The hotels who have planned this way of entertaining the boys are the American House, Boston Tavern, Bellevue, Brewster, Brunswick, Copley-Plaza, Commonwealth, Essex, Georgian, Healy's, Ketterer, Lenox, Parker House, Quincy House, Somerset, Thorndike, Touraine, United States Hotel, and Young's.

The special committee for entertaining the 26th Division, representing the Mayor's Reception Committee, is composed of Mrs. Guy W. Currier, John A. Donahue, Miss Gertrude A. Foley, Miss Dorothy A. Forbes, Wallace Goodrich, Quincy Hyer, Daniel W. Lane, Edward E. Moore, L. C. Prior, Charles J. Rich, Phillip S. Sears, Edwin D. Smith, John C. Welton, Edward P. Barry, Robert J. Larsen, Chester I. Campbell, John M. Clagg, Harold Bornstein, and Walter L. Gallagher.

FREE THEATRE TICKETS FOR YD BOYS

Free shows, athletic and theatrical, free automobile sightseeing rides and free hotel accommodations is the idea of how to treat the returned soldiers of the 26th Division held by the city entertainment committee, which today formally opened its new headquarters at No. 209 Tremont street, the Little Building.

Prominent theatrical stars will assist each day in distributing the theatre tickets to the returned heroes of the 26th. Today Mrs. Ethyl Cook Benham, wife of Harry Benham, leading man of "The Rainbow Girl," and Miss Louise Russo, vaudeville and musical comedy star, saw that every Y. D. man who came had a seat "well up front."

Y. D. boys don't have to walk when looking Boston over, neither do their relatives. Y. D. boys don't have to pay for hotel accommodations, if they apply in time. And as a windup on the 24th and 25th the men of this famous fighting unit will see some of the best boxers in the country perform, just as a contrast between a fight here and "over there."

The headquarters are gay with the national colors and the "American eagle above a shield is prominent in the decorations. Former Lieutenant Governor Edward P. Barry is chairman of this committee, 'ell has many assistants including theatrical men and members of the War Camp Community Service.

Tomorrow 2,500 tickets will be given out for the Sunday afternoon all-star vaudeville show in the Boston Theatre. All next week entertainments are provided. The wounded Y. D. heroes at Parker Hill and the West Roxbury branch of the City Hospital were taken in Red Cross ambulances to the theatre today, ten ambulances being supplied for 100 convalescent heroes.

Among those on the committee are Lieutenant Bornstein, John M. Casey, Mrs. Guy W. Currier, Councillor John A. Donohue, Joseph Donovan, Miss Maude A. Foley, Miss Dorothy Forbes, Harry H. Frazee, Samuel Grant, George W. Grant, Wallace Goodrich, John G. Heyer, George H. Kimball, Councillor Daniel W. Lane, Robert G. Larsen, J. H. MacMinagle, Edward E. Moore, L. C. Prior, Miss Mary Reardon, Charles J. Rich, Major Phillip S. Sears, Major M. F. Smari, Edward D. Smith, John C. Welton and Margaret R. Starrett.

NOW REPORT DEATH OF MISSING WAKEFIELD BOY

All hope that their son, Private Burt L. Johnson, might yet be restored to them, was shattered today for Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Johnson of No. 4 Swain place, Wakefield, in a telegram from the War Department. Private Johnson's death was officially announced after months of suspense for the parents. The young soldier was officially reported missing last Fall, when the parents were notified on November 9 that he had been missing since October 7. He was a member of Company K, 58th Infantry, formerly the 301st Regiment.

MILLION DOLLAR HOME AS WEDDING GIFT FOR MARGARET CARNEGIE

SIMPLICITY TO BE KEYNOTE OF CEREMONY ON APRIL 22

New York, April 11.—From present indications the wedding of America's richest heiress, Miss Margaret Carnegie, daughter of the multi-millionaire iron and steel master, Andrew Carnegie, will lack the striking features which have marked the marriages of other American heiresses.

Miss Carnegie will become the bride of Roswell Miller April 22. The wedding will take place at 4 p. m. in the Carnegie mansion, Fifth avenue and 90th street. Mr. Miller is a son of the late Roswell Miller, one time president of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railroad.

Simplicity is to be the keynote of the wedding, in fact, not in the history of New York society has such an important bride planned such an unostentatious wedding. There will be no bridesmaids, and the reception which will follow will be very informal.

$1,000,000 HOME FOR BRIDE.

It has been decided by leave the wedding solemnized by the Rev. Dr. William Merrill.

There has been a rumor that Mr. Carnegie will present his daughter with the Carnegie Fifth avenue house as a wedding gift. The property is valued at more than $1,000,000.

The one sorrow which darkens the otherwise happy occasion for the wealthy young bride is her father's feeble condition.

At the time Consuelo Vanderbilt became the Duchess of Marlborough great crowds surged through the streets from early dawn in an effort to catch a glimpse of the bride as she left St. Bartholomew's Church. There were similar scenes when Vivian Gould, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Gould, married Lord Decies, and also at the wedding of Gladys Vanderbilt and the Count Laszo Szechenyi.

According to present plans, Mrs. Carnegie is making every effort to have the marriage of her daughter and young Miller attract as little attention as possible. The invitations to the ceremony will not be sent out until a few days before the wedding. There will be about 200 invitations. A large delegation of guests from Pittsburgh, where the Carnegies have a large family connection, is expected.

PLANS KEPT SECRET.

The greatest secrecy is thrown around the arrangements. An extra policeman and watchman are already on duty outside the imposing house.

There is great interest attached to the report that Miss Carnegie's mother, and not her father, will give her away.

For some time the aged Laird of Skibo has been in very slight health, and he is constantly attended by six servants, a trained nurse, valet, secretary and a specialist. He eats only the simplest foods and usually dines in his private dining room on the second floor of the Carnegie mansion, paying little attention to what is being served.

It is this lack of interest in what is going on around him which has caused it to be reported that the aged multi-millionaire's mind is failing. This may or may not be the reason society is saying Mr. Carnegie will not give his daughter away on her wedding day. It is known he is at times so ill that he has to be wheeled about the house and through the gardens surrounding the mansion.

SINN FEIN PARLIAMENT DISCUSSION IN GAELIC

By Universal Service.

Dublin, April 11.—Only ticket holders were admitted to the first public session of the Sinn Fein Parliament at the Mansion House. J. J. O'Kelley, who attempted to get a hearing before the Paris peace congress, made a long speech in Gaelic. Professor De Valera spoke in English, but most of the discussions were carried on in Gaelic.

DANIELS EXPECTED TO SAIL FOR HOME MAY 12

Washington, April 11.—Secretary Daniels and his three chief technical advisers who are in France will probably sail for home May 12.

They have been confer-ing with Admiralty officials overseas as to the future type of capital ships, aviation and other matters.

THREE FIRES IN LAWRENCE SET IS BELIEF

Stable Destroyed and Two Tenements Damaged After Threatening Letter

Lawrence, April 11.—Three fires, believed to have been of incendiary origin, two of which were in tenement houses occupied by loyal workers and the other in a stable, occurred early today.

Six horses were burned to death in the stable of John Breen on Auburn street, which was destroyed, with an estimated damage of $10,000. Chief Norris of the fire department believes someone threw a lighted match through a rear window.

An empty bottle which had contained gasoline found in the entryway following a fire in a tenement house at No. 114 Elm street, owned by Mrs. Timothy Scanlon, led to the belief that the fire was set. Loyal workers in the house had received a letter to the effect that if they didn't quit work the house would be set on fire.

Fire was also discovered in a rear hallway of a tenement house at No. 315 Elm street, which was extinguish without heavy damage.

MUSICALE IS GIVEN BY 101ST HOME WORKERS

A successful musicale by the Home Workers of the 101st Signal Corps was held at the Hotel Hemenway, 358 Stuart street. The committee in charge consisted of Mrs. Harry G. Chase, wife of Colonel Chase of the corps; Miss Aimee Hibsch, chairman; Benjamin Chase, treasurer, and Mrs. Anna R. Edwards. The program consisted of solos by Mrs. Hudson Alexander, who was accompanied by her husband; readings by Miss Bessie Whiting and a trio composed of Mrs. Alice Edwards, Miss Laura Pinfield, and Hildegarde Berthel. Several young ladies gave exhibitions of the dances of the allies. They were Agnes Watt, Molly L. MacCormack and Ruth E. Clarke. Henry R. Burkland announced the dances and accompanied the dancers on the piano.

WOMEN PREFER DOGS TO CHILDREN, SAYS PASTOR

Newark, N. J., April 11.—"American women like dogs better than children," declared the Rev. Dr. Christian F. Reisner, pastor of Grace M. E. Church, of New York, in an address delivered before a congress of women here. He added:

"I suppose, after all, it is better for them to pet dogs than to do something worse. The average American family has two children. But the German family averages three children, the Polish family five and the Italian family six. Home life must be built up, or our national life will go."

LOOK FOR STRIKE VOTE AT PHONE MEETING

The meeting of the Boston Telephone Operators' Union at Faneuil Hall tonight, at which a strong attempt will be made to have a date set for the calling of a strike, promises to be one of the busiest in the history of the organization.

G. M. Bugniazet, vice-president of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, will take a prominent part in the work of forestalling any strike action at this time, according to information received by Miss Julia S. O'Connor, president of the operators.

Movie Men Charge Cheap Publicity to Mrs. O'Grady

New York, April 11.—"Cheap publicity" is charged to Mrs. Ellen A. O'Grady, deputy police commissioner, in her attack on present-day moving pictures as "suggestive and filthy," by a committee of the Association of Motion Picture Advertisers.

The committee, in a statement, challenged her to appear before them and has sent her 18 quotations designed to elicit specific instances, to prove her assertions, and concluded with an inquiry whether Mrs. O'Grady did not realize, "way down in your heart, that you have taken an attempt to ride to cheap publicity by means of attacking an industry long ago established in the hearts and minds of such men as Woodrow Wilson, William H. Taft, Professor Lowell and every high-minded man in public life."

STRIKE PROBE ORDERED BY GOVERNOR

Following the flat refusal of the mill owners to agree to any arbitration suggested to bring about a settlement in the Lawrence textile strike, Governor Coolidge has ordered the State Board of Conciliation and Arbitration to make a private investigation of conditions existing in the mill city in order that the State may fix the responsibility for the continuance of the strike.

The State Board of Conciliation and Arbitration will begin the investigation at Lawrence Monday. The investigation will be public.

In a letter received by the Governor from Henry B. Endicott, Mr. Endicott made it plain that he was only too willing to withdraw his offer to act as arbitrator between the mill owners and the employes if there was a feeling against him which which had caused the mill owners to refuse his offer.

The expressed willingness of the strikers to arbitrate the issue has been met with an emphatic refusal by the committee of Lawrence manufacturers of any arbitration whatsoever.

"PROBE ONLY REMEDY."

In his statement making public the action he had taken in calling upon the State Board of Conciliation and Arbitration, Governor Coolidge declared:

"Mr. Endicott has conferred with me, reiterates the statements made in his letter, and suggests that if, for any reason he is not personally acceptable to the mill operators, he hopes they will suggest that some parties be appointed who are desirable. Mr. Endicott is entitled to the credit for being willing even to consider the service he offered and to make a real desire to clear up a very inconfortable situation. He made it clear in his original statement that he was not offering his services but that if requested by both parties he would take on the burden of acting.

"As the letter from the committee of Lawrence manufacturers makes it plain that 'they cannot agree to leave to arbitration an issue like the present controversy,' the only remedy left is to order an investigation provided for by Section 11 of the act relative to the powers and duties of the State Board of Conciliation and Arbitration. I am therefore requesting the State Board to proceed forthwith to investigate and report upon the present controversy at Lawrence, which in my opinion seriously affects and threatens seriously to affect the public welfare.

CALLS SITUATION SERIOUS.

"I very much regret that it has not been possible to secure arbitration, because I felt that such action would bring about a settlement. It is very difficult to judge of these matters from the outside and my opinion may not be right. It is obvious, however, that a serious situation exists, very expensive to the city of Lawrence and disturbing to the peace of the Commonwealth. If it is due to some possible injustice in both industrial and economic conditions' of our manufacturing establishments, we desire to know it in order that we may correct it; if it is a result of a concerted action by labor leaders or individuals desiring to foment discord and defy the constituted authorities of the people, we wish to know that in order that it may be stamped out; on if it be a combination of both these elements, that too should be ascertained and remedied."

TO BOOM LOAN WITH WAR RELIC EXHIBITION

Four special trains loaded with German war relics will tour New England between April 21 and May 10 to boost the fifth Victory Liberty Loan. The exhibits will consist of heavy guns, trench mortars, flame-throwers, rifles and other enemy equipment. The most interesting exhibit will be the "Hindenburg Pills" in which the German leader sat and viewed operations during the early part of the war. Speakers and bond salesmen will accompany the trains. Each train will carry 250 aerial bombs, one or more of which will be discharged upon approaching a city or town.

"MOTHER OF DOUGHNUTS" TO TELL WAR EXPERIENCE

Brigadier and Mrs. Sheppard of the Salvation Army, the latter known as the "Mother of Doughnuts," will address members of the Girls' City Club in Public Library Hall next Monday evening. Mrs. Sheppard will tell her experiences with the American Army at the front.

Club members will take a "hike" to the Blue Hill reservation Sunday afternoon, leaving the club at 3:30.

MRS. BUCKLEY DRANK FREELY, SAY NEIGHBORS

Quincy Woman Frequently Unsteady, Swear Witnesses at Divorce Hearing

Mrs. Katherine A. Buckley was frequently seen to be under the influence of liquor, she fell off the steps, she staggered when walking down the main highway, and she used profane language, according to witnesses today in the Buckley divorce case in Sisk.

Mrs. Buckley was a former president of the Women's Relief Corps of Quincy and a member of the Daughters of the Revolution. In her suit against William T. Buckley, a former Quincy assessor, she charged him with cruel and abusive treatment. In a cross suit the husband charges her with gross and confirmed habits of intoxication.

Mrs. Elizabeth A. McDonald, the first witness of the day, said she lived near the Buckleys in Atlantic, and told of one occasion when she was called to the house by Mrs. Buckley, who asked her to call on a neighbor, Mrs. Moffatt, and asks her to contribute two dollars for some flowers.

Mrs. Buckley, according to the testimony, had just learned of the death of her brother and was in such a condition that she was unable to telephone.

"As she picked up the receiver to order the flowers she was unable to talk coherently, and she fell on to the table," the witness said.

Mrs. McDonald stated that she frequently smelled liquor upon Mrs. Buckley, but she never saw her intoxicated. She had never been under the influence of liquor on two occasions.

AIDED BY TWO POLICEMEN.

Alexander Darr of Atlantic, another neighbor, testified to seeing Mrs. Buckley staggering along the road. He said: "I saw her drunk a few times. She came down to my house cursing and swearing and wanted me to take the colt away as he was destroying the bushes. She did not walk straight; she was staggering. I saw her drunk a good many times," he repeated, "and I would notice a woman in that condition much quicker than I would a man.

"I never saw any other woman drunk as much as I saw Mrs. Buckley. I remember on the day that Patrol wagon came to the house to arrest her she was in such a condition that two police officers had to take her into the house."

Under cross-examination the witness said that he hired a barn of the Buckleys to keep stock in, that he was always friendly with them. He said that he never was close enough to Mrs. Buckley to smell her breath.

Mrs. Minnie Bowen, a neighbor, another neighbor, said she had known the Buckleys for about 15 years and that she recalled being in Mrs. Buckley's house one night and smelling liquor on Mrs. Buckley. "She called for help out of the window," she said, "and said that she was being murdered.

"When I reached the house she was hysterical and there was blood on her face. I bathed her face for her. She told me that Mr. Buckley had assaulted her. I knew it smelled like liquor because I had used it when I was ill. It didn't smell like essence to me.

OFF THE BACK STEPS.

"I never saw Mr. Buckley strike his wife or speak unkindly to her. I was very well acquainted with them as my husband was employed as foreman for Mr. Buckley.

"I saw Mrs. Buckley fall off the back steps one day."

Albion G. Johnson, twenty-three, husband of Mrs. Buckley's daughter Ruth, testified that he had seen Mrs. Buckley under the influence of liquor twice.

"The first time was when I called at the house," he said. Walking into the house he said, "I met Mrs. Buckley in the hall and she smelled of liquor and looked very untidy. Her hair was all mussed up.

"I knew it didn't smell like medicine. I never drank whiskey, but I know how it smells. I use brandy in lemonade in the colder season and when I was with my wife and we met Mrs. Buckley in the road. She was walking very unsteadily, sort of zig-zagging. I didn't smell any liquor that time. I very often heard Mrs. Buckley use very vulgar language, which she directed to Mr. Buckley and her daughters. I never kept track of the number of times that I heard her. It was so often."

CONGRESSMAN GOODALL DECLINES TO RUN AGAIN

Portland, Me., April 11.—Congressman Louis B. Goodall, Republican, announces he will not stand for renomination in the First District. Business duties were given as the reason for his decision.

COURT STREET FLOODED AS AUTO SHATTERS HYDRANT

Thousands of dollars' damage to property was caused in Court street today by a broken hydrant. One man was hurt, another rescued and several horses were swept off of their feet. Picture shows the break near the Avery Studio, the interior of which was demolished.

Court street, near Sudbury, was turned into a millrace from curb to curb today, at least one person was injured, horses were swept from their feet by the force of the flood and property worth thousands of dollars demolished when an automobile struck a hydrant and broke it in two places, releasing a stream of water which also forty feet in the air.

Windows three stories high were broken. The flood in Court and part of Sudbury street was at one time a foot high, and rolled from the roadway up over the sidewalks and into the stores.

The automobile which caused the disaster was driven by Miss Helen M. Lawler of No. 11 Hancock street, West End. She was uninjured. The interior of the Avery studios at Nos. 127-129 Court street was ruined, and all the furnishings on the first and second floors destroyed. A man whose name the police have not learned was rescued from the studios through a side window after the water in the room where he had been working had reached his chin.

The store of Ferdinand Bieringer at Nos. 121-123 Court street fared badly. Hundreds of boxes of cigars were washed from the counters into the street and went bobbing down with the torrent toward Haymarket square.

A hole twenty feet square was blown in the sidewalk by the force of the water. Miss Lawler's automobile had run several hundred feet before the geyser began to play in full strength and was not damaged. Miss Lawler told the police that she was trying to avoid hitting a pedestrian and to avoid a trolley car at the same time, and so ran her machine up on the sidewalk. The hydrant was blown both above and below the ground.

The flod was finally stopped by firemen who sliced off the water further down the street, but Court street and part of Sudbury were strewn with wreckage when the water had flowed into the catch basins and down small alleys.

The man who was taken from the Avery Studios was rescued by Patrolman John Fox of Station 2 and by Firemen Harry W. Cummings and Charles Campbell. The studios are owned by Harry Schwartz.

FUNERAL OF H. M. CLARKE HELD AT READING HOME

Funeral services were held in Reading today for Henry M. Clarke, a director of the Exchange Trust Company, and for more than 40 years in the stove and furnace business in Boston. The services were at his home, No. 24 Buckley street. Rev. D. A. Newton officiated. Bearers were John J. Martin, president of the Exchange Trust Company; John Walker, vice-president; R. M. Leach, Taunton; Dr. Arthur A. Libby, Boston; George H. Huse, Boston, and Jesse W. Morton, town counsel of Reading, Massachusetts Real Estate Exchange, Boston Athletic Club, Boston City Club and the H. W. Clarke Company, No. 56 Union street, Boston, sent delegations to the funeral.

"WETS" WIN BY BIG MARGIN IN QUEBEC

Montreal, April 11.—In the referendum in the Province of Quebec to determine whether wine and beer licenses shall be issued or the province go dry, a victory for the "wets" by a large majority is indicated by early returns. Quebec is the only "wet" province in Canada.

In the province, as a whole, the "wets" turned out in great numbers, while the "drys" seemed apathetic. Women did not vote.

SPECIAL NOTICE

CHARGES 2 RICH FARMERS STOLE WIFE'S LOVE

Grafton, N. H., Man Asks $10,000 Damage Each for "Mental Anguish"

Wilmot, N. H., April 11.—Grover C. Langley and Francis B. Langley, both well-known bachelor farmers here, have been sued for $10,000 by Fred B. Bliss of the town of Grafton, who claims his wife's affections have been alienated.

Early in 1917, when Bliss went to work at the big Simmer estate of E. T. Kimball of Boston, at North Wilmot, he says he lived happily with his wife and three small children. The wife and one child are now living under the Langley roof and Mr. Bliss claims the defendants, through their arts and devices, stole the affections of Mrs. Bliss.

Because he has lost the comfort of home and the companionship and society of his wife, with his children secured from him, and because he has been subjected to mortification, neglect, desertion and mental anguish, he has been damaged to the extent of $10,000.

The defendants, who are thirty-one and thirty-five, respectively, are the richest farmers in town. They own three large well-stocked farms which have been attached in each case.

5 MORE ARRESTS IN N. Y. ANTI-DRUG CRUSADE

New York, April 11.—Five more physicians and druggists are under charges today of violating the anti-narcotic law. They are held by United States Commissioner McGoldrick in $2,000 bail for examination. The warrant upon which the arrests were made was obtained by detectives, who posed as drug addicts working in Brooklyn. Their report inspired a raid by Internal Revenue Inspector Charles Perry, heading a corps of officers.

UXBRIDGE MAN BADLY HURT BY AUTO TRUCK

UXBRIDGE, April 11.—Louis Grenier, driving an auto truck, struck and seriously injured John Liberys, Lithuanian, on Main street here today. Liberys was picked up unconscious and taken to the residence of Dr. George T. Little. Later he was taken to his home.

BANDITS HOLD UP TROLLEY CAR

Crew Beaten, Women Terrorized by Masked Gangsters in South Boston

A trolley car holdup on Southampton street in South Boston Wednesday at midnight, in which eight masked armed gangsters invaded a South Boston car, terrorized the passengers and robbed the conductor after beating him almost insensible, came to light today despite the silence of the police.

The outrage is the climax to a reign of terror near the old gashouse in the last few weeks, and a group of young "Apaches" operating a dive in Dorchester street is blamed by the police.

While the police at first neglected to inform the public of the holdup, a heavy guard has now been placed in certain dark streets in South Boston, where trolley car highwaymen might be tempted to pity their trade. Plain clothes men are also riding on the cars late at night, and a crusade is on to rid the section of the thugs who have been making life and property unsafe there.

The robbers secured a considerable amount of change from the pockets of the conductor of the South Boston car, William Murray. Motorman Thomas Burke went to the aid of the conductor, and was being vigorously pummelled, when a policeman in plain clothes went to his assistance, and with the aid of other passengers finally took the gang in charge.

Women on the car were driven into hysterics, and were taken off in a fainting condition at the Andrew square tunnel station.

Mrs. Minnie Bowen, a neighbor, another neighbor, said she had known the Buckleys for about 15 years and that she recalled being in Mrs. Buckley's house one night and smelling liquor on Mrs. Buckley. "She called for help out of the window," she said, "and said that she was being murdered.

Some of the men wore masks, others large caps pulled down over their eyes. Guns were in evidence, but were only used to terrify the passengers.

Two of the men held the arms of the conductor and two others attempted to choke him and beat him into silence, while a fifth went rapidly through his pockets in search of valuables.

The holdup was staged at the same spot at which a car was boarded two weeks ago by bandits and Conductor Daniel Donovan so badly beaten that he was not returned to work.

The motorman and conductor both believe they recognized two of their assailants as members of the Dorchester street gang, and arrests are expected.

WOMAN'S GAS BILL JUMPS TO $16.50

Had Never Exceeded $6 a Month, Says Mrs. Tuccio of Dorchester

Flagrant instances of alleged overcharging for gas on the part of the Boston Consolidated Gas Company continue to be brought to the attention of the American.

One of the most striking cases of apparent injustice in overcharging was brought to the American office today by Mrs. Maria Tuccio of No. 79 Hancock street, Dorchester.

Mrs. Tuccio lives with her husband in a five-room suite at the above address. She says that she and her husband a single light each evening in their home.

"Never once has our gas bill ever reached as much as $6," declared Mrs. Tuccio. "Our March bill was for $16.50. Of course I refused to pay it.

"Just for an experiment, I spent two weeks during the past month at the home of my daughter. No gas was consumed at my house during those two weeks. Yet my bill today was for $7.10—for only seventeen days' gas during the preceding month.

"I have done no washing and only a small amount of cooking all Winter. I cannot understand why my bill should be so large.

"I complained to the gas company, but obtained no satisfaction. They threatened to take out my meter if I didn't hurry up and pay the $23.60 which they claim I owe them for the past two months.

"I wanted them to change the meter, but they said such a measure was useless, as they all registered the same and had been properly tested before being installed.

"Everybody in my neighborhood is sore at the way the gas bills have jumped recently. I can't believe my bill is a just one."

Mrs. Tuccio will consult an attorney in the hope of obtaining some redress.

NEWTON CENTRE PUTS VETO ON MOVIES

To have movies or not to have movies? Yes, 71 votes. No, 203 votes.

This question, which has been agitating residents of Newton Centre for some time past, was settled, at least temporarily, at a meeting of the local improvement association. Dr. George L. West, medical examiner, is president.

With the clergy divided, and two strong factions working, the subject has been a live one for weeks. First the "pros" issued circulars to the 8,000 or so residents, urging support for the project. Then the "antis" called a meeting, held last evening in Mason School Hall and attended by about 300. No one under twenty-one was allowed to vote, but it was noted that among the seventy-one voting in favor soldiers and sailors in uniform were conspicuous.

Two clergymen were the most emphatic, both pro and con.

The Rev. Oscar R. Hawes of the Unitarian Church, who has been overseas doing Y. M. C. A. work with the soldiers, was strongly in favor of a local motion picture theatre. He called it "an unmitigated blessing" among service men; said that he allowed his little girls to attend shows, and that he would rather have them go to a theatre in their home community than to go outside. Recently he produced Marguerite Clark and Mary Pickford films in the vestry of his church for the young people, and thronged attended.

The Rev. Thomas J. Curtin of the Sacred Heart Church spoke equally emphatically on the opposition side. He called the movies "worse than the saloons," publicly called upon members of his parish who were present to vote against them, and said that his Sunday school numbered 50 pupils, whom he did not wish to have subjected to the withering influence of the movies.

Others opposed were Colonel E. H. Haskell, who declared the the movies were "a baleful influence" and "a direct help to the saloons"; Samuel H. Faul, principal of the Mason School, who pronounced movies to be "decidedly injurious to the eyes and to morals"; George H. Ewing, treasurer of the New England branch of the Western Union; F. Donn, C. Peter Clark, and the Rev. J. J. Haney, curate of the Sacred Heart Church.

Speakers in favor included A. S. Alvord, brother-in-law of the Rev. E. M. Noyes, one of the most pronounced opponents, and L. F. Hallett.

It was brought out that a theatre in Newton Centre would serve a number of small neighboring communities which have no theatre of their own. These include Chestnut Hill, Newton Highlands, Ashton Park and Thompsonville.

STAMFORD, CT., WOMAN WED TWICE ON SAME DAY

Stamford, Ct., April 11.—Mrs. Maida C. Vanburen, wealthy Stamford woman, was married twice today, before and after breakfast. Rev. Dr. Robert Hugh Morris married Mrs. Vanburen to Lieutenant Antonio Vaz Monteiro-Gomez of the Portuguese army at his parsonage this morning. After the party had left Dr. Morris saw that the license had been taken out in Greenwich. He hastened to the bride's home where he eliminated all possible errors by tieing the knot again.

LEMON JUICE FOR FRECKLES

Girls! Make beauty lotion for a few cents—Try it!

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white, shake well, and you have a quarter pint of the best freckle and tan lotion, and complexion beautifier, at very, very small cost.

Your grocer has the lemons and any drug store or toilet counter will supply three ounces of orchard white for a few cents. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day and see how freckles and blemishes disappear and how clear, soft and rosy-white the skin becomes. Yes! It is harmless and never irritates.—Advertisement.

RUSH MUTINY REPORT TO BAKER

By International News Service.

Washington, April 11.—Details of the mutiny of American troops on the Archangel front were today in the hands of Secretary of War Baker, who is enroute to Europe aboard the Leviathan.

The code message received by the War Department, telling of the refusal of an infantry company to go to the front line and demanding an explanation of their being held in Russia, has been sent to the secretary by radio, it was learned today.

War Department officials were loath to discuss the situation today, but that they regard it as serious is proved by the fact that no time was lost in notifying the secretary of the occurrence.

The news of the mutiny electrified Washington, coming as it did on the heels of a reiterated protest from Johnson of California against holding the men in Russia in spite of the facts that there has been no declaration of war against the Bolsheviki and that the hostilities for which the men enlisted or were drafted have ceased.

"I am not surprised," was the only comment Senator Johnson would make. He indicated, however, that he would have more to say later.

War Department officials pointed to the recent announcement that plans had been made for the removal of the American force in Russia early this spring, and to the recent announcement of General March that two companies of engineers had arrived for the purpose of paving the way for this withdrawal.

They then reiterated the assertion that America's policy with regard to troops in Russia was in the hands of the allied council—a condition against which Senator Johnson expressed himself very bitterly yesterday.

The belief was expressed that the openly asserted attitude of the men might result in some effort to speed up their withdrawal, but there was nothing here to indicate definitely that such a course would be taken.

The possibility that Colonel Stewart might be requested by cable to assure the men that plans for their withdrawal were being expedited was hinted at in some circles, but owing to the absence of Secretary Baker there seemed to be some doubt as to whether such a course could be advisedly taken by any of the officials of the department remaining in Washington.

$50,000,000 in Food to Be Sent to Russia Each Month

London, April 11.—Fridtjof Nansen, the explorer, has been asked to head an Allied commission which will investigate the feeding of Russia and has accepted, says an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Copenhagen. It is understood that Americe will offer to deliver $50,000,000 worth of food monthly on condition that hostilities are suspended.

COLONELCY IS OFFERED TO SHERBURNE

Camp Devens, Ayer, April 11.—There is a possibility, even a probability that Brigadier-General Sherburne of the 51st Artillery Brigade, who returned yesterday, will accept a colonelcy in the regular army. In staff circles it is intimated that a colonelcy had been offered to the brigadier-general as a permanent command, and it is expected General Sherburne will accept it.

General Sherburne had a long talk with Major-General Harry C. Hale, commander of the Twenty-Sixth Division, but the conversation is said to have referred chiefly to the coming review and parade.

TWO NARROWLY ESCAPE INJURY AS AUTO SKIDS

Lexington, April 11.—Two persons narrowly escaped being badly injured here, when the automobile in which they were riding on Massachusetts avenue got beyond control, and after skidding and striking a pole, finally shot across the roadway into the soft loam, damaging the front wheels and axle.

The touring car is owned by James W. Mogan of No. 16 Bennington street, East Boston, and was operated by Richard C. Kirby of No. 25 Bennington street, East Boston. There was another person in the car.

CAMBRIDGE POLICEMAN STRICKEN WITH PTOMAINE

Lawrence, April 11.—Patrolman James Russell of the Cambridge Police lies at the Lawrence General Hospital in a serious condition, from what is thought to be a form of ptomaine poisoning. He was on duty when stricken. He was rushed to the hospital where several physicians examined him.

STEEL FLOOR HINDERS FIREMEN IN BLAZE FIGHT

Lawrence, April 11.—Lawrence firemen saved the McCabe Boiler Works from destruction by fire caused by a spark from smouldering iron, which ignited the heavy flooring of the building. The floor was covered with steel and it had to be removed before firemen could pour a stream in the flames. The fire fighters battled for two hours, their efforts being greatly retarded by steel on the burning floors. A heavy loss was sustained.

4-YEAR FIGHT WON WOMEN'S 8-HOUR DAY

By HAZEL CANNING.

Four years ago two women, late in the afternoon, saw flashed at them in the night editions of the papers, "Railroad Brotherhoods Ask Eight-Hour Day."

One turned to the other. "If railroad workers ask an eight-hour day —why shouldn't women factory workers ask for the same?"

"Why not?" asked her companion. "I hereby devote my time and energies to getting an eight-hour day for women workers equally with men."

Those two women of four years ago, were Miss Leone Baker and Miss Mabel Gillespie of the Women's Trade Union League. And those two women today are celebrating the victory of the eight-hour day won, when, Wednesday afternoon, the House of Representatives and the State Senate, almost unanimously passed the forty-eight-hour weekly labor bill to replace the present fifty-four-hour law.

Miss Mabel Gillespie, secretary of the Trade Union League, an ardent fighter for working women, told a little of the struggle of four years.

"In the first place," she explained, "Miss Leone Baker, from that initial night, has given her time to lobbying at the State House. Every Legislator has been interviewed by her these last four years; the record of every man has been kept.

"We found out, the first year, that opposition was very strong. All the success we achieved was to force a roll call in the House, so we knew where each man stood. One man, particularly hostile to us, we campaigned against with all the vigor we had, when the next November elections came round. And the result? These last two years he has not only voted for us; he has also spoken for us.

"In the meantime, in our four years' struggle, the war intervened. 'Wait,' said the legislators. 'Wait. Shorter hours will cripple war work.'

"'Bah,' said we to those obstructionist legislators, 'then what was the war emergency bill made for?'

That bill, Miss Gillespie explained, "made it legal to increase women's hours of work when the war exigency demanded it. So, we had them there. Then we went to work with system to get facts, medical, legal, statistical facts. Our files bulge with them now.

FIRST BRITAIN SEA FLIGHT MONDAY

By Universal Service.

St. John's, N. F., April 11.—The Sopwith straightaway plane carrying Pilot Hawker and Navigator Grieve is to have its official test today with the flowers of postmaster and other officials present. The plane has already made a successful trial flight, remaining in the air forty minutes.

Both Hawker and Grieve believe it will be possible to get away on their attempted transatlantic flight by next Monday. The Martinsyde plane and its crew are due today and will start preparations for flight from Quidi Vidi, nearby. The Martinsyde men believe the weather over the ocean now cannot be combated safely, and they will wait a fortnight or longer.

If the United States Navy wins the transatlantic air race, what will be done with the $50,000 prize offered through the London Daily Mail for the first successful flight?

This question is concerning aviators here deeply and there has been much informal discussion of it. Of course the English airmen who came with the Sopwith plane and those interested in the Porte machine will not concede that Secretary Daniels' pilots are going to win.

The British airmen are confident that a British plane will be first away and first across. They have the advantage of being at the post first. They will have warning of the United States navy seaplane's departure from Rockaway Point for Newfoundland—at least they hope to have—and they will try to get at least a day's jump on the American craft.

The Sopwith airplane is built for speed, not rough work. With its four-bladed propeller it will be driven steadily at the rate of 100 miles an hour overseas. Once laden and started there will be no turning back, for the plane could not land without being wrecked until the weight of 300 gallons of gasoline, to be carried under the fuslage of its chunky body, is reduced by consumption.

Tabloid and semi-liquid food for a day will be carried. The pilot and navigator will sit side by side in the tiny cockpit.

Fishermen shake their heads doubtingly over the fog belt 100 miles deep off the coast, but agree that if it is clear the airmen may win, even with a single motor.

JUMPED INTO A CAPTAINCY BY BRAVE FIGHTING

By THOMAS F. PHELAN

Camp Devens, April 11.—Meritorious conduct in the face of grave danger resulted in the promotion of Francis X. Phelan from the rank of private to captain on the battlefields of France. He has charge of the supply company of the 101st Infantry and lives in Roxbury.

Captain Phelan is a nephew of James J. Phelan, the Boston banker, and was commended several times for bravery. His father was the late Patrick M. Phelan of the firm of Phelan & Steptoe, of Boylston street, Boston.

"That I'm glad to be home is putting it mildly," said Captain Phelan. "Eighteen months spent travelling over shell-swept fields and hills and living in dugouts are events which will live long in my memory. We lived a life that was nothing but thrills. The sufferings the boys of the 101st underwent are indescribable. I was in every battle in which the 101st fought, with the exception of the one at Verdun.

"I saw poor Joe McConnell in the Chemin-des-Dames engagement. He lost his life at St. Mihiel while leading a company."

Captain Phelan has charge of the distribution of the 2500 pies made by the mothers of the soldiers of the 101st Infantry. He received the first instalment of the pies from Mrs. Katherine Kennon of No. 43 Hyde street, Revere. Others were sent to him by Mrs. Mark Fitzgerald of South Boston, who acts on behalf of the ladies' auxiliary of the regiment, delivered several thousand gallons of ice cream. The pies and cream will be given to the men at each mess.

A touching scene took place in front of Colonel Logan's quarters. Mrs. Kennon had two specially prepared pies. She presented them to Captain Dave Brickley.

"My boy, Lieutenant Reginald Kennon of the 101st Machine Gun Battalion, wrote from France and told me to make two fine pies for you," said Mrs. Kennon, as she presented them to him. "He said he never can forget what you did for him over there."

Mrs. J. V. English of Malden, another soldier's mother, distributed apples among the men.

GEN. SULLIVAN AS GUEST.

Brigadier-General John J. Sullivan of the 51st Infantry, commander of the old Ninth Regiment, was among the visitors. He was warmly greeted by Colonel Logan and Lieutenant-Colonel Barry. He distributed a box of cigars among the officers.

Charles H. Strecker, in charge of sub-treasury in the Federal Building, was another visitor. He chatted with Chaplain Michael J. O'Connor about the burial of soldiers killed in action. He spent the remainder of the day directing relatives of the heroes to their barracks.

Tell the good people of Boston through the American that we intend to install an immense sign in front of our information bureau here," said Mr. Strecker. "We are more than thankful to the American for the splendid notices they have already given us of the advantages to be derived by visitors to the camp calling at the information bureau for knowledge of the whereabouts of soldiers.

"We have installed a telephone service in the quarters of the bureau and want people to call us up if they need information. We have an energetic committee of men and women on hand to render this service free of charge. That is what we are here for."

The work of putting the clothes of the men of the batteries of the Field Artillery through the sanitary process machine is expected to be completed today.

MARKED LIKE A ZEBRA.

Lieutenant James H. Kelly of Worcester commanded 25 Company, 101st Infantry in the drive at St. Mihiel and received so many wounds from shrapnel that his comrades declare he is marked like a zebra.

"I was struck by fragments of an exploding shell on the life side," said Kelly. "The shell killed eight men and wounded fifteen. I was one of the latter. We went over the top with flying colors in that engagement. We were known as the Kommel Guards of Worcester. I was wounded again in all parts of the body from the knees up, by another bursting shell. I was gassed at the Toul sector."

Lieutenant Kelly was a top sergeant when he went to France, and received his promotion for deeds of valor, according to his regimental papers.

Private Thomas F. Connore, C Battery, 103d Field Artillery, of No. 94 Bowers street, Lowell, was eighteen years old when he enlisted for overseas duty nearly two years ago. He is known as the baby of the battery. His mother and sisters greeted him on his arrival here.

SAYS TANKS SCARED GERMANS.

Private James J. Gately, Tank Corps No. 59, of No. 41 Clifford street, Roxbury, arrived here with fifty-nine others. He said the "tanks" went over last September and were stationed for a time in England and later at Langre, France.

When the Germans heard of our tanks they quit," said Gately.

An army truck crashed into a jitney on the main road near the postoffice. No one was injured. The jitney was wrecked and traffic was stalled for a time. An inquiry board was appointed to determine the cause of the accident.

QUINCY TO HONOR ITS BOYS OF TWENTY-SIXTH

At a huge meeting to be held in Quincy Sunday afternoon, Brigadier-General Charles H. Cole of the Yankee Division will speak on "Experiences With the 26th." The meeting will be under the auspices of the Quincy Chamber of Commerce, and will be held in Kincaide's Theatre.

One hundred seats have been reserved for the mothers of Quincy boys ere on Sunday to attend.

"Welcome to the 26th Division" will be recited by Allan Pierce, the youthful Quincy elocutionist.

COMMITTEES TO AID 26TH COMBINE

Mayor's and State Bodies to Work as One at Devens to Promote Greater Efficiency

Mayor Peters' committee on Camp Devens has been absorbed by the State committee on the same, has arranged with Major-General McCain to take over a centrally located and completely equipped building at the camp and is preparing to assist the men of the 26th in every possible way.

When the Germans heard of our tanks they quit," said Gately.

The combination of the two committees was made to promote greater efficiency, as both committees were working along the same line. Francis P. O'Connor, who was chairman of the Mayor's committee, and Charles B. Strecker, treasurer of the Mayor's committee, retain these positions in the new committee.

The building at the camp is to be made a centre of information on all camp matters relating to the 26th Division. Experts on matters pertaining to every organization of the division are on hand daily and twenty aides are continually at work. Representatives of all the auxiliaries are present.

Relatives of the men will have little difficulty in finding them if they apply through this committee, as every regiment and company of this division is located on a map.

Among the members of the committee are Herbert Parker, Colonel George H. Doty, Frederick C. Nichols, Major James A. Hagerty, Emmery P. Clark of Springfield, George W. Bentley, Arthur T. Good, Daniel J. McDonald, Charles B. Pastene, Miss Eula M. Barr, Mrs. Thomas H. Davis, Mrs. William J. Kelville, Mrs. E. L. McNamara, Mrs. George T. Spaulding, Adjutant-General Jesse F. Stevens, P. A. O'Connell, Miss Elizabeth Logan, Mrs. John H. Sherburne, Colonel E. C. Benton, Mrs. Charles B. Strecker and others.

How I Sent Around the World to Find a Nut

Listen, Boston!

I GOT back from France—I brought home the real French way to make chocolate.

I made some bars. They tasted pretty good, but—I said to myself:

"Duane, this almond bar business is all chipped up among people who are making 'good enough' bars.

"If you want a real business, you've got to make a real almond bar.

"You've got the best chocolate. Now get the best almonds.

"With your automatic chocolate mixer, thermo, moulder and cooler, all-in-one, you can put at least 50% more almonds into Touraine Bars than the-fellow-who-counts-every-almond-he-drops-into-his."

Finding the best almonds is not as simple as you might think.

I sent to every country in the world where almonds grow!

I found the finest in Italy and Spain.

Well, sir, as soon as I found those almonds, I felt pretty sure I had it at last.

Chocolate made the real French way—chock-full of big, sweet, mellow almonds from Italy and Spain!

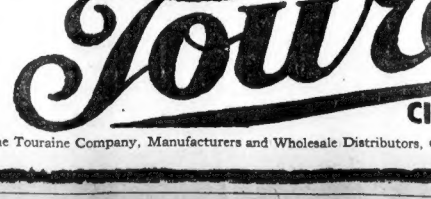
I gave those bars to friends and strangers to taste.

One of my friends said: "Duane, if that bar doesn't give you the biggest slice of the almond bar business, it's because the American public are not particular about their almond bars."

Perhaps it isn't quite fair to put it as strongly up to you as that, but "The proof of the pudding is in the eating."

Touraine Bars are in Yellow Packages, not "chocolate-colored" ones.

Harry B. Duane, President
THE TOURAINE COMPANY



Ever Get Hungry at Night? DON'T stumble around the kitchen trying to find some leftovers from supper. Keep TOURAINE ALMOND BARS on hand, and eat them when you get hungry. You'll find that rich TOURAINE CHOCOLATE—Made the Real French Way—just touches the spot—and almonds are in plenty.

SAYS GERMANY'S WEAPON IS BOLSHEVISM

Former Ambassador Hints Soviets May Refuse to Make Peace

By H. J. GREENWALL.

Exclusive Cable by Universal Service and the London Daily Express.

Berlin, April 11.—Either we hurry and make peace with Germany or else we will face a soviet Germany which will not make any peace.

Sending foodstuff alone is no check to the rising tide of Bolshevism. We have control of the world's raw materials. If we deny them to Germany she will die.

Already signs of Bolshevism are making themselves felt in Prussia. A former German ambassador to one of the allied nations said to me today:

"I am frankly pessimistic. An early peace might have favored the situation, but now I fear it is too late."

The Allies held the trump cards. We could have won the peace as we won the war, and could have done what we liked with Germany, but we shirked our responsibilities.

Either we have the means to establish an official receiver to run the country for the benefit of its creditors or we allow Germany to get better peace terms than she ever hoped for in her wildest dreams.

The Germans have only one weapon —bolshevism. If we delay a few weeks longer then the German government will throw in its hand and say to the allies: "Do what you like."

The whole thinking class in Germany would be glad if British and American troops occupied Germany, permitting those who wished to work to do so.

Finally, remember that the allies are dealing with a desperate nation—a nation hungry for peace—hungry for bread.

Demand U. S. Curb Activities of 'Red' Mission

New York, April 11.—Immediate government action to curb the activities of the "Soviet mission to the United States," headed by Ludwig C. A. K. Martens, is demanded in resolutions on file here today by the Union League Club.

Charles E. Hughes presided at the meeting at which the resolutions were unanimously adopted. Martens, although a Russian citizen, is said to be a native of Germany.

A committee report on Bolshevism, which was adopted by the club, declares that if Martens is recognized he and his associates may be expected to follow in the footsteps of the Germans in disseminating propaganda directed against the safety of the United States.

CUPID IS UNLUCKY IN WILLIAMSTOWN

Williamstown, April 11.—Dan Cupid has suffered a great setback in Williamstown, according to statistics here. Since January 1 only two marriages have taken place.

There are no applications for marriage licenses.

High cost of living, the war and general business conditions are blamed.

77TH SINGLE CONVOY IS ASKED FOR PARADE

Washington, April 11.—The War Department has requested that the 77th Division be embarked in a single convoy, if possible, so that New York's plan for a parade may be carried out.

AIRPLANES BOMB NEW YORK WITH LOAN BILLS

U. S. "Flying Circus" Thrills City with Realistic Aerial Battle

New York, April 11.—Captured German Fokkers and Curtiss planes, comprising the "flying circus," was prepared today for its tour of the East for the Victory Liberty Loan, following a preliminary demonstration here.

The "bombing" of the city with Liberty Loan literature was secondary in point of interest to an aerial pursuit and retreat, the manoeuvres and darrings to gain favorable positions in a sham battle over the city's skyscrapers.

The airplane fleet swooped down from a great height, surprising New York's financial district as the planes skimmed close to the tops of the lofty city buildings. When the Fokkers appeared, giving battle, the rattle of machine gun fire by guns loaded with blank ammunition could be plainly heard.

The Fokkers were apparently getting the better of the fight when another group of fighting planes was sighted moving swiftly to the fray. It was composed of allied Spads and Nieuports, and a gigantic Handley-Page bringing up the rear.

For a short time following the arrival of the reinforcements the aerial battle still raged, when the Fokkers turned tail, as previously arranged by Major Henry T. Miller, in command of the manoeuvres, and fought safely in precipitate flight.

A Dolly That Walks and Bows

The most fascinating little creature from Doll Land has come to our Toy Shop, third floor, annex. If you will hold her chubby little hand she will walk by your side as far as you like—and she never grows tired. Or, if by chance, you meet a little friend, Miss Dolly will bow with all the grace of a colonial miss.

There is no winding or mechanical device. Nothing to get out of order, or to reduce Dolly to an ordinary helpless little person.

The Dollies are frocked in muslin, some in pink and some in blue, with dainty lace edgings. Cunning bonnets almost hide their long curls.

Bring the little folks in to see them. The grown folks, too, are most enthusiastic over the cleverness of the Walking Dolly.

These dolls are on sale in the Toy Section, third floor Annex.

47 TEMPLE PLACE 15 WEST STREET

Mrs. Blake Now in America, Say Newporters

By CHOLLY KNICKERBOCKER.

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

While I have been unable to verify the rumor, several matrons whom I have every reason to believe know what they are talking about insist that Mrs. Joseph A. Blake, the former Mrs. Clarence H. Mackay, is now in this country.

Comes as rather a sensation, eh, what?

Mr. Informants are positive they saw the one-time wife of the multi-millionaire society and clubman just the other day in Newport, disembarking the Warren yacht, which the Blakes have been reported as leading for the Summer season. Everyone supposed Mrs. Blake was still in Paris, but my friends are positive she was at Newport, coming over the Westbound route and departing before sightsee.

The Warren villa will seem like "home" to Mrs. Blake, she having passed several seasons there when her parents used the villa as a Summer pied-a-terre.

If Mrs. Blake is in this country she is most certainly keeping away from the haunts of the social set, but then my friends may be mistaken, after all. They seldom are, however.

BLACKSMITHS OPPOSE NATIONAL "DRY" STRIKE

Indianapolis, Ind., April 11.—Organized blacksmiths and helpers in the United States, will not join a nation-wide strike protesting against the prohibition law, according to a resolution adopted by the International Brotherhood of Blacksmiths and Helpers here.

DOOLEY, IDOL OF MEN OF SUPPLY COMPANY

Sargeant Who Broke Famous Mule Has Fame as Fighter and Cook

By THOMAS F. PHELAN.

Camp Devens, Ayer, April 11.—Maybe the men of the Supply Company, 51st Infantry, don't swear by Mess Sergeant Tom Dooley, the oldest bachelor in the outfit. Tom is on the shady side of fifty, but as regards "pep" and dash and "exia" he is the equal, if not the superior, to any soldier in camp. It essays he is a bachelor because he hasn't found the girl who can meet his requirements as a good cook.

Dooley hails from Dorchester. Some of the F. I. P.'s and shes have and conservative Democrats, whose the babies, because of their military propensities, sleep with toys and Springfield. He is a particular friend of Major "Bill" Dreban, custodian of the law in Judge Day's court in South Boston.

TAMED FIGHTING MULE.

Prior to embarking for the big adventure Dooley was a sergeant in the old "Fighting Ninth," and was one of a number of men placed in charge of the regimental mules in a South End barn. One day it was necessary to shoe the mules, and Dooley was given the job of leading the kind-hearted beasts there.

"Dynamite" was the name of the balkiest mule. Try as he would the blacksmith could not shoe him. It was even hinted that there wasn't a man in the "Fighting Ninth" outfit that could ride him. Dooley took up the challenge.

Getting astride "Dynamite," Dooley was hurled high in the air and landed upside down on the ground.

"Ha, ha, me fine bucko," said Dooley as he looked into the eyes of the beast.

"Dynamite" pricked his ears, tilted his head from side to side, whinnied once or twice and up with his forward legs and again sent Dooley sprawling.

MAGIC WORD SPOKEN.

Catching the bridle in both hands and once more looking "Dynamite" in the eyes, Dooley uttered some mystic words. Then he got on the mule's back, drove him around the field without an interruption, and took him back to the forge, where the blacksmith shod him.

"It's all in saying the right thing at the right time," said Dooley. It was after that he went to France with the 51st Infantry. He took part in all the engagements. He is now in Captain Phelan's outfit.

"How about that mule you tamed?" Dooley was asked.

"It's now a relic of old decency," he replied in a rich Celtic brogue, for Tom was born in sweet Athlone, birthplace of John McCormack, the Irish tenor.

ACCUSED GIRL SAYS SHE WAS KIDNAPED

A girl claiming to be Hattie S. Conklin, 16 years old, of Warwick, Ct., was arraigned in the Quincy District Court on a charge of grand larceny. The case was suspended. She is alleged to have stolen a hat, a coat valued at $25, and a fur piece valued at $50 from the cloakroom at the Fore River Club during a dance there last Saturday.

The Conklin girl told the police a strange story of how she came to Quincy from Connecticut. She says she was kidnaped by four men in an auto in Warwick and taken to Springfield. Later she found herself alone in a small house, and decided to come to Quincy instead of going back home.

FRIENDS HONOR CLINTON PASTOR'S ANNIVERSARY

Clinton, Me., April 11.—The home of Rev. and Mrs. E. E. Longley was made a merry one when sixty of their friends gathered in honor of their thirty-fifth wedding anniversary.

Mrs. Muriel Longley Hutchinson of Buxton Centre, Mrs. Mary Longley Brown of Ash Point and Miss Belle Longley, a senior in Colby College, are daughters of the couple.

Champion Cow Gives 653.2 Pounds of Milk in Week

Canton, Me., April 11.—Charles W. Walker of Pine View Farm, Canton, has a three-year-old cow which has the State record for milk production. The animal is Balsam Mercedes DeKol and her official record for milk and butter in seven days is 653.2 pounds of milk and 22.16 pounds of butter. Her biggest milk production in one day was 98.4 pounds of milk.

HUGE BAR HARBOR ROCK TO BE MADE MEMORIAL

Bar Harbor, Me., April 11.—The huge rock located in the field adjoining the Louisburg Hotel is to be removed immediately to Morrill Park. The big stone was purchased some time ago by Mrs. Edward Morrill, and when in place at the park is to have a tablet inscribed upon it as a memorial to the late Colonel Edward de V. Morrill. It will cost approximately $2,000 to move the rock.

C. S. PARKER, ARLINGTON EDITOR, EIGHTY TODAY

Charles S. Parker, for nearly a half a century editor and publisher of the Arlington Advocate and Lexington Minute Man, a weekly newspaper, was eighty years old today. His associates decorated the office and presented him a plant. Mr. Parker was born in Charlestown, April 11, 1839. A veteran of the Civil War, he is past commander of the Francis Gould Post 36, G. A. R., of Arlington.

PERSHING'S BAND COMING BACK TO AID WAR LOAN

New York, April 11.—"Pershing's own band," has sailed on the Leviathan to participate in the Victory Liberty Loan drive, which opens April 21. This band, organized by General Pershing in France, is composed of 104 of the best musicians in the American army, and a bugle and drum corps of forty members. It is considered the finest military band in the world.

NOVEL PROGRAM AT LEXINGTON APRIL 19

Parade, Salutes, Paul Revere's Ride and Games to Feature Holiday

Lexington, April 11.—The program for the annual Patriots' Day celebration in Lexington, Saturday, April 19, was announced today by the committee in charge, composed of Captain William F. Young, commander of H Company, 11th Infantry, Massachusetts State Guard; Hallie C. Blake and Christopher S. Ryan.

It will open with a huge bonfire on the "Lookout" on Granny Hill at 11 o'clock, Friday night, April 18.

SALUTES TO OPEN DAY.

On the 19th the day will be ushered in at sunrise with the firing of salutes by the Lexington Minute Men Rifle Club from Munroe and Buckman Taverns. At 9 o'clock there will be a big parade of local civic, fraternal and military organizations, also of returned soldiers, sailors and marines.

The line of march will be from the East Lexington station over Massachusetts avenue to Clarke street, to the athletic field in Lexington Centre. Here, under the direction of the Lexington Athletic Association, there will be the annual three-mile "Paul Revere Marathon," a girls' field hockey game and field sports.

"Paul Revere" will be greeted by the paraders and townspeople on his arrival from Boston in Lexington about noon.

ATHLETICS IN AFTERNOON.

In the afternoon, the Lexington High School baseball team will open its season, playing the Mitchell Military School nine from Billerica, on the athletic field, at 2:30 o'clock.

Also in the afternoon, the Lexington Minute Men Rifle Club and local State Guard company will hold a shoot.

The annual 19th of April ball will be held by the Old Belfry Club in the Town Hall, in the evening.

JOHN E. CAMPBELL, new chief clerk in the office of the Adjutant-General of Massachusetts.

John E. Campbell, familiarly called "Johnnie," is receiving congratulations from his friends upon appointment as chief clerk in the State Adjutant-General's office. He has been connected with the office twenty-nine years. He has engrossed and designed all the officers' commissions and discharges, Civil War and Spanish War Diplomas. He recently engrossed the address, "To the People of the Allied Nations," signed by hundreds of leading citizens of the United States. The first copy was sent to King Albert of Belgium. For many years he was director in the Boston Musicians' Protective Association.

K. OF C. MEMBER DRIVE APPROVED BY CARDINAL

Urges All Catholic Men in United States to Join; Aim to Secure 1,000,000

The Knights of Columbus campaign to increase the membership of the order to 1,000,000 by 1920 has been approved by Cardinal O'Connell in a letter to Judge William J. Day, State deputy supreme knight. He advises every Catholic man in the United States to become of the order.

The Cardinal declares that the order, through its service in the war, had risen to a position of international eminence that merited and obtained the approval of Pope Benedict XV. And in the body of his communication he says, "The Knights of Columbus must get their million members."

There are approximately 450,000 men in the order in the world. The quota for Massachusetts under the new campaign is 75,000. With the Cardinal setting his seal of approval [illegible] it is expected that the members in this State will reach the 100,000 mark.

LABOR BOARD HEADS DISAGREE ON PACT

Washington, April 11.—Dissenting opinions as to the legality of a working agreement entered into between the Michigan United Railways Company and five divisions of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Employes of America were rendered by Joint Chairman Taft and Frank P. Walsh, who was joint chairman at the time the case was submitted. Walsh found that the agreement was legal and Taft that it was illegal. Both submitted lengthy opinions.

FINED $25 FOR THEFT OF ELECTRIC CURRENT

Joseph P. Wolf, who conducts a restaurant on Broadway, West Somerville, paid a fine of $25 today in the Somerville police court for larceny of electric current. The complaint was made by Special Agent Frank J. Sears of the Edison Company, who claimed that Wolf had secured electric service for his restaurant by connecting wires to the company's cables, using no meter. The discovery was made by workmen in the employ of the company.

FARMER GIVEN SUSPENDED SENTENCE FOR RIOTING

Lawrence, April 11.—A fine of $25 with sentence suspended until October 9 was imposed on Alberi Michalofsky, a farmer, who figured in the riot. It was charged, last Monday. He pleaded guilty. He said he had no particular interest in the Lawrence strike and worked on a farm.

In view of the circumstances, the defendant's request that he be allowed to go back to the farm was granted.

N. Sallinger does by far the largest Credit Men's Clothing business in Boston. . . . . .

The big cash clothing stores have no monopoly of the famous Standard Brands of Men's Clothing. . . . .

N. Sallinger, Organizer and Promoter of the Greatest Credit Accommodation in Boston and New England.

Between N. Sallinger and the Big Stores There Is Only One Difference in Selling

The Standard Brands of Men's Clothing

It is agreed between the makers and N. Sallinger that the credit price charged by N. Sallinger is the same—not a cent more—than the cash store prices for the same brands.

This Is the ONE Difference

$1.00 A WEEK

The average man knows what the leading Standard Brands of Men's Clothing are—He sees them advertised in the big magazines and other publications and in his own newspapers—

—The average man also is aware that he cannot buy these brands of clothing in the cash clothing stores for $1.00 a week. Right here is where the N. Sallinger plan operates in favor of the man who wants credit accommodation, he can find in our clothing department the clothing he wants at the same price as at the cash stores and pay his bill at the rate of $1.00 a week.

These Standard Brands are by the best designers in America in the popular models at same prices as cash stores: Form-Fitting Models, Single and Double-Breasted Waistline Models and the latest thing in smart and conservative styles, in all the newest and best woolen fabrics.

Ten Years' Suffering from Itching, Burning Skin Trouble, Stopped by Resino!

Gretna, Va., Oct. 20.— I suffered for over ten years with itching and burning of my skin. It never broke out at all, but just itched and burned terribly. I tried almost everything, but got no relief. As soon as I began using Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap the itching and burning left me almost at once. I used one jar of Resinol Ointment and two cakes of Resinol Soap and was completely cured." (Signed) Richard T. Shelton

SEND QUERIES TO SERVICE BUREAU

The Soldiers' Service Bureau of the Boston American is dedicated to the purpose of doing things for the soldiers and sailors of Uncle Sam. It is for officers and men alike. Answers to questions will be published in the American daily, and many personal services will be done for the soldiers and sailors as stated below.

Address all communications to Soldiers' Service Bureau, Boston American, No. 18 Summer street, Boston.

Persons finding the discharge papers of soldiers or sailors should make every effort to return them to their owners. A discharge paper cannot be duplicated. The War Department can only issue a certificate that the discharge has been given. Frequently the owner loses his original, and would greatly appreciate its return.

All soldiers and sailors who have an honorable discharge or release, either medical or otherwise, are entitled to the $60 bonus carried by the Revere Revenue Bill, provided they were in the service after April 7, 1917, and previous to November 11, 1918. This includes all men sworn into the service, even though they remained in camp only a few days and were then given an honorable discharge. It does not include those who were ordered to camp but were released by their draft board before they reached their destination.

Enlisted men now willing to risk the loss of their discharge or release papers in sending them to Washington, can obtain certified copies at the nearest recruiting station.

Requests for information to the Soldiers' Service Bureau should be signed with the full name and address of the writer. Numerous inquiries which could be answered by letter are now destroyed because this practice is not carried out. The name will never be published except upon special request of the writer.

Petition to the Secretary of War and Secretary of the Navy to send Soldiers, Sailors and Marines Home with Six Months' Pay

Sign this petition, get your friends to sign it, and forward it to the Boston American, 80 Summer st., Boston, Mass.

To the Honorable Newton D. Baker, Secretary of War:
To the Honorable Josephus Daniels, Secretary of the Navy:

The undersigned respectfully urge you to return to their homes as soon as possible the soldiers, sailors and marines who have accomplished so brilliantly every object America had in the war.

We urge, also, that you obtain the necessary authority to pay these men their military wages for six months, or for some sufficient period after their discharge from the army until they can obtain useful and remunerative employment.

We urge this as an act of simple justice by a great nation to its heroes.

DOLLIES RESENT BEING KNOWN AS TWINS

By FRED J. McISAAC.

Take it from the Dolly Sisters, who are off this week after a season on Broadway, that twins are a couple of grown up pretzels. It seems to reason that twin sisters of being "cunning little twins" gets tiresome.

They took me aside about it in their dressing room last night. The complaint, in a nutshell, was that they were tired of being dressed alike. The two sisters, who are twenty-six years old, declare that they have been dressed alike since they were babies.

"We are tired of posing as twins," said Jenny.

"It's all right on the stage," Rosie added, "but it's bad enough to be always known as twins."

"I told you how it was, our sister," Jenny said.

"Without having to play twins on as well as off the stage."

That's the way it goes sometimes. They always split their sentences like a couple of opera singers in a duet, but to save wear and tear on the composition I shall cease following their example. Just understand that one lady began every statement and the other ended it.

"In the days we're apt to look different and we are different in our tastes. We don't object to playing sisters but we are sick of it as twins, that's all."

Another thing we won't do is have our hair cut exactly alike. The reason we have short hair is that it is so much sweeter and cleaner. You can't have it look as fine, silkiness and sweetness like little girls' hair without it. We parents are not going to let ourselves be compelled to have it."

"Why don't you send out a common sense ad for the Dollies?" I suggested.

"We don't want to be separated. We couldn't stand apart. For the first time in a week's vacation we're not going to be different. If one wears a big hat the other wears a small one. If one wears a green dress the other wears a red one and so forth to the end of the chapter."

"My sister and Miss Rockford have been very nice to me. Long ago, when I was a little girl, I was in their company at the Casino when they were starred in 'The Whirl of the Town' and as I didn't have anything to do on the stage I used to go around with them. They were very kind to me then and I'm always glad to do something for them."

"We're not going to be separated," Jenny said positively.

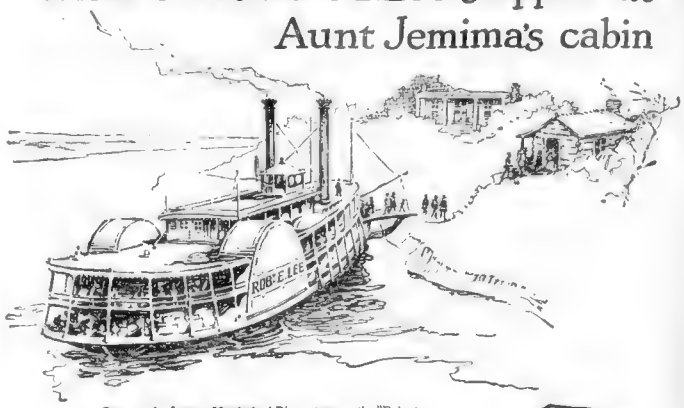
BOSTON . . . MONTREAL

When the "Robert E. Lee" stopped at Aunt Jemima's cabin



Once on the famous Mississippi River steamer, the "Robert E. Lee," an ex-general of the Confederate Army was traveling. Passing Aunt Jemima's cabin on the shore he told some Northern travelers of the many times he'd eaten her delicious pancakes.

"The boat stops here, let's get off and have some now," they all urged. And so they did. And thus the fame of Aunt Jemima's Pancakes reached the North.

With Aunt Jemima Pancake Flour, made from Aunt Jemima's own recipe, you can have the same wonderful pancakes today—pancakes just as golden-brown, fragrant and tender. Everything to make these pancakes is already in the Aunt Jemima Flour—milk and all. You have only to add the water. And, oh, how good they taste!

For variety serve Aunt Jemima Buckwheat Cakes. You'll say they are the best buckwheat cakes you ever tasted! Get a package of each from your grocer today—Aunt Jemima Pancake Flour in the red package, Aunt Jemima Buckwheat Flour in the yellow package.

By HUGH S. FULLERTON.

Ross Young and that great veteran, Harry Hooper, are the ranking right fielders of their respective leagues, according to the dope figures, and in neither league are their rivals, either as individuals or as combinations, even a reasonable threat to them in the figures. Last year Hooper topped the list in annual lead, the dope and was led by Nino of Washington and Ruth, then with Cleveland. Now Ruth, due to his off year at the bat and general soppy work, is out of luck, badly, and he hopes pretty for the ring season.

I have been told, that Babe Ruth will come back with a flash knockout to Lundy Mack says he is playing ball but we cannot take that for granted under the circumstances of his behavior during last season and his outlaw out and general kicking during the Winter.

Young seems to have established himself right enough as leading right fielder of the National League. His figures help prove McGraw's outfield the fastest and the most brilliant in baseball.

Jack Dempsey's Life Story to Begin Next Sunday

The life story of Jack Dempsey, the most famous present day fighter, will begin in next Sunday's Boston Advertiser and American. The narrative is being written by Damon Runyon, who will describe in his own inimitable style the career of the mighty Dempsey before and since he entered the ring.

Dempsey is the most talked of fighter in America today. On the Fourth of July he is scheduled to meet Jess Willard in a battle for the heavyweight championship. Dempsey is a man with a punch—a punch that has brought him fame and fortune. Many observers of the ring game are firm in their belief that Jack will relieve Willard of his crown.

Dempsey's road to success was a hard one. How the next opponent of Willard spent his early days and how he became a great fighter will be told in a series of articles which will appear regularly in the Advertiser and American.

Stocks Irregular in New York in Afternoon

STEEL COMMON AT ITS LOW FOR DAY

Prices Recede Again After a Rally in the Noon Hour

By W. H. ROSS,
Financial Editor.

Irregularity marked the very active New York market from the opening until afternoon, although a settlement it verged on being strong. After free selling for a few minutes after the start prices became firmer, but the rally was not forceful and was followed by a slight recessional. This was true of the market on every rise. Some shipping issues and several oils were strong. Sinclair selling at its highest since it has been listed on the New York Exchange. A few issues sustained substantial losses, including American International Corporation. American Agricultural Chemical, St. Paul, General Electric and Industrial Alcohol. All were off two points or more at one time or another before afternoon. Issues whose material gains included Ajax Rubber, Atlantic Gulf, Baldwin Locomotive, Chandler, Marine common, Texas Co. and U. S. Rubber. Bethlehem B was the strongest steel. Other specialties were affected by the Washington rumor that manufacturers and government officials had reached no agreement at their latest conference.

MILLION SHARE DAY TRADING.

Trading was on quite a large scale during the morning as at any time this year, transactions up to noon totalling nearly 600,000 shares. There was less business in specialties than for some time. Foreign exchange was weaker, especially in regard to France. Call money was firm. A midday mixed collateral brought 6 and industrial loans 6 per cent.

Railway shares weakened when it was announced that train crew wages had been fixed to an estimated total of $65,000,000 a year to the cost of operating carriers. This makes a total wage increase of $300,000,000 since roads passed under Federal control.

WHY PAYMENT WAS CALLED.

American International Corporation was busy ranging during the early fraction to more than two points. There is belief on Wall Street, it is said, that the call for the payment of $40 a share on this stock was to provide funds to consummate the sale of British employes' shares owned by the International Mercantile Marine Combine. It was rumored that American International had taken a large block of Mercantile Marine stock. Marine common was one of the strongest issues on the list.

PRICES AT THEIR LOWEST.

Shortly after 2 o'clock prices were either lowest for the day in the case of many stocks or were shaded down to 97⅜, off ⅜. Its highest had been 99. Other declining were General Electric, 2, at 191½; United States Steel Corporation, ¾, at 81; Agricultural Chemical, 2, at 108; Industrial Alcohol, 2⅜, at 127½; Baldwin Locomotive, at 176; Royal Dutch, old, 1, at 92½, new, ⅝, at 90¾; St. Paul, ¾, at 31; Reading, ⅝, at 84; Southern Pacific, ⅝, at 103⅝; Utah Copper, 1, at 74½; and Anaconda, ⅜, at 61⅜.

Gains included Bethlehem B, 1¼, at 74½; Atlantic Gulf, ¾, at 127¾; Marine common, 1¼, at 50¾; Texas Co., 1 at 213; United States Rubber, 1, at 135⅜, and U. S. Rubber, 1 at 87½.

BEARS EXPECTED A REACTION.

While the New York market was irregular at the opening and the price trend was downward for a few minutes, any reactionary tendency while developed was not more than moderate to suit bears. They had looked for a sharp check to the bull movement because of reports that bankers are not favorable to a speculative movement in the Liberty Loan campaign, and are inclined to restrict loans. Another factor was the extensive reductions of the short account. Covering was on a large scale during the previous session. It is significant that the public is in no sense participating in U. S. Steel, totalling more than 600 shares, when that issue was so active last year. But the public is free to speculate. Crop reports are favorable and there is unbounded confidence that business will continue. Any readjustments are finally achieved. Another strong bull factor is belief that a peace treaty will soon be signed.

WARREN BROS. A FEATURE.

The Boston market was irregular at the opening and grew weaker during the morning, with price changes small for most transactions and with trading tame and of about the usual volume. Warren Brothers was a feature, advancing three points on a few sales. American Agricultural Chemical and Boston & Montana common were dull. Packing stocks ruled lower.

GOVERNMENT WANTS TO SELL SURPLUS METALS

The United States government is anxious to sell its surplus stock of metals. It accumulated large quantities last year that were no longer needed when the war ceased. The latest estimate of the copper held by the War Department is 645,000,000 pounds. Spelter holdings are figured at 80,000,000 pounds, of which about 33,000,000 is Grade A, the very purest form of zinc. The government paid about 31 cents a pound for this, a large buyer, fearing a runaway market. In dependent of government holdings, it is said that there are about 40,000 tons of spelter in the country at present. It is said that government holdings of steel have been exaggerated, and that actually shell, scrap, structural and other classes do not total more than 500,000 tons, or possibly 400,000.

New York Sub-Treasury Gain

New York, April 11.—The sub-treasury here reports a gain of $1,000,000 today, making the cash net gain since Friday $2,276,000.

U. S. STEEL HAS FOUR MONTHS' BUSINESS

Unfilled March Tonnage Provides That Without New Orders Received

While the controversy at Washington over readjusting prices for steel products has caused a great deal of concern to business and commercial circles, it is said that if buying of such commodities continues to be light leading manufacturers have enough orders on their books to keep plants going at about the present capacity well into summer time. Unfilled orders totalling 4,439,572 tons at the end of March reported by United States Steel will provide business for the corporation in excess of capacity for four months. While new business may come in slowly, it is thought by most men conversant with railroad and commercial requirements that it ought to be one of larger volume soon and steadily increase regardless of what prices are ultimately fixed.

MORE BUYING THIS MONTH.

It is believed from what Judge Gary said after the April 1 conference that buying has increased this month. If prices had been actually stabilized a decided improvement in the demand would have been demonstrated already. The tonnage decrease for March was slightly under the average of the months since the armistice was signed.

Independent mills are not as busy as those of the U. S. Steel Corporation, operating now at only about 50 per cent. of capacity, and there is said to be considerable diversity of opinion as to price fixing on the part of steel producers.

"There have not been wanting, even among producers," says the Iron Age, "advocates of an open market as the shortest road to a basis that will invite free placing of orders. The outstanding feature in the consuming is growing expectation that readjustment from iron and steel to take place in labor as well as products."

STEEL CORPORATION'S REPORT.

The report of the U. S. Steel Corporation that in March the unfilled tonnage decreased 580,215 tons was neither a surprise nor a disappointment. But there is hope that the April month improvement will be shown. The unfilled record for unfilled tonnage was reported for April, 1917. It was 12,183,093 tons. From that time until the end of last month unfilled orders decreased 6,752,511 tons. Decreases in eight out of nine months since July last are shown as follows:

	Tons	Decrease
March	4,439,572	580,215
February	5,019,787	473,686
January	5,493,473	604,844
December	6,098,317	745,311
November	6,843,628	1,124,056
October	7,967,684	743,883
September	8,711,567	1,292,455
August	10,004,022	121,759
July	9,882,263	35,078

Regarding steel ingot operations of the thirty companies which contribute 94 per cent. of the country's 1918 output, the American Iron and Steel Institute reports that March, 1919, production totalled 2,662,265 tons, of which 2,108,528 tons were open-hearth, 555,332 tons bessemer and 1,459 tons all others. In February, this year, the output was 2,704,683 tons, of which 2,043,655 tons were open-hearth, 655,296 tons bessemer and 5,642 tons all others.

PAULISTS GIVE WIDE PROGRAM SKILFULLY

Big Audience Delighted by Vocal Jewels of Choir at Symphony Hall

When little red-cheeked Billy Probst sent a birdlike note echoing through Symphony Hall last night at the Paulist Choristers concert, a packed audience rocked the hall with applause.

The little fellow in surplice and cassock was only one of several boy soloists whose sweet soprano voices have gained for these singers the high claim of "The World's Greatest Choir." The other soloists Masters McManus and Hallet Dolan sustained the country-wide reputations they have already won.

2-Cent Postal Rate to Be Extended on July 1

Washington, D. C., April 11.—Pursuant to an order of Postmaster-General Burleson prescribing the postage rate effective July 1, 1919, on first-class mail, postmasters are informed that the letter rate of postage provided for in that order—two cents for each ounce or fraction thereof—will apply to letters addressed to the Bahamas, Canada, Cuba, Barbadoes, British Guiana, British Honduras, Dominican Republic, Dutch West Indies, England, Ireland, Scotland, Wales, Leeward Islands, Mexico, Newfoundland, New Zealand, Panama, Trinidad, Windward Islands.

The rate of postage on and after July 1, 1919, to postal cards and post cards to Canada, Cuba, Mexico and Panama will be one cent, it was also announced.

COPPER PRODUCTION COST ABOVE PRICE OF METAL

Recent selling of copper is reported at 15¾ cents a pound, while the figure asked by leading producers is but 18½. This is interesting because comparison of current mining costs by company official reports with reduction expenses in averaging at present about 15¾ cents a pound. It would appear from this that consumers who expect cheaper metal wait in vain, refined and delivered below cost.

Foreign U. S. Steel Holdings

The Dutch own more U. S. Steel common than any other nationality, holdings in Holland numbering 229,285 shares on the last day of March. But it was not recently acquired. In fact during the first three months of this year Dutch holdings increased just 100 shares. Germans did a little better in spite of defeat, revolution and other mishaps. They had bought 150 shares.

American Zinc Deficit

A local financial publication understands that for the first 1919 quarter the American Zinc, Lead and Smelting Company figures will show a deficit of about $50,000, principally owing to the management's policy of marking down metal and ore stocks to a level commensurate with prevailing market quotations.

Boston and Maine Report

For the year 1918 the Boston & Maine road reports total revenues of $72,141,625, an increase of $8,420,778 for 1917, and railway operating expenses of $61,400,140, against $47,164,940. The net profit for the year, after all deductions, was $1,897,518 against a deficit of $419,324 in 1917.

COTTON PRICE ADVANCE AT NEW YORK OPENING

New York, April 11.—Bad weather and strong cables sent cotton prices up at the market opening, old styles advancing 12 to 45 points higher and new styles 22 to 38. Spot houses and Liverpool bought freely, while offerings were much lighter. Cold rains in the Eastern belt, where dry weather is needed, were reported. The Western belt seemed to be in better shape. Southern selling after the opening caused moderate reactions, with prices on new styles about 15 points net higher at the end of the first twenty minutes.

Opening prices were: May, old 24.80, new 26.35; July, old 23.60, new 24.30; October, new 22.65; November, new 22.65; December, new 22.35; January, new 22.18; March, new 21.95.

Chicago Grain Market

Chicago, April 11.—Corn opened 1 to 1½c higher. Oats were ⅛ to ¼c higher. Provisions opened higher. Opening prices were: Corn—May, $1.36 to $1.50½; July, $1.36¾ to $1.50½; September, $1.44¼ to $1.45 1-2; Oats—May, 67½ to 68c; July, 66¾ to 66¾c; September, 63¾ to 63¼c.

Prosperity Needs Government Ownership

Copyright, 1919, Star Company

Some day, perhaps too late, prosperity will discover that it made a mistake in fighting Government ownership of natural monopolies, railroads, telegraph, etc.

A man with a good, safe, well-paid job is a "booster" for the firm. He will fight for it if need be. A man with a safe, well-paid, dignified job under Government ownership would fight for that, and for the Government.

There is no suggestion that any man's property should be taken without due process of law or without fair payment.

The men that had the energy to build railroads in the early days are entitled to be paid for services rendered. Men that built and extended telegraph and telephone lines should be paid fairly for the work that they have done, paid even for the privileges, concessions, franchises, that the people gave them for nothing.

To sell these properties to the Government at a fair price, accepting Government bonds—a first mortgage on the entire nation—would create the army of Government employes and of Government PROTECTORS that this Government needs. Such an army would make of the so-called Bolshevist movement a thing as ridiculous as a hoptoad standing in front of a locomotive.

For the men who own these great public monopolies to SELL them now would be the part of wisdom.

The English are far-seeing, and they read history intelligently. They don't wait to be run over before they step to one side.

One of the greatest Dukes in England, owning fifty thousand acres of land, has just sold thirty-five thousand of his acres. He says quite frankly that he thinks the English system of holding land on that scale will pass. And he prefers to sell his rather than wait for a state of public mind that might TAKE it.

The men that control this country as the Dukes and others control England should be as intelligent as their English half brothers.

Gigantic ownership of land is no more out of date in England than private ownership of public monopolies of public property in the United States. And this country NEEDS an army of Government workers: First, to do the country's work; second, to stand between the established Government and reckless agitation.

Two or three million well paid men on Government jobs, safe for life, during good behavior, would mean more to public safety and Government stability than our proposed standing army of half a million men.

"If Temper Lasts, Maniac Doing Badly"

That's What the Doctor Said. It Interests Us All

Copyright, 1919, Star Company

The wise doctor paused to say, "You can't judge men when they are good natured. You don't see the real man or the real mind then. You see only the "adaptation to environment," as Darwin might say, the color that we all put on to suit the crowd in which we live.

"But get a man angry; study him, then, when he doesn't know it, and you get some real information. That probably is the origin of the saying, 'You can judge a man after you have played poker with him and watched him lose.'"

That learned physician continued, as he solemnly chose a small knife, "When I was working in the insane asylum we had to grade the patients, decide which were doing well and should be encouraged with more liberty, which were standing still mentally or going backward.

The simplest method was to do something that would make the patient angry, speaking to him roughly or giving an unreasonable order.

When I had done the thing that I knew aroused temper, I would walk off, and without letting the patient know it, study his face.

Anger came, as I expected, in every case. For anger and fear, which are the first emotions that human beings and other animals develop after birth, are the last emotions that they lose as the mind goes.

I would study my irritated maniac. His brow was contracted, his hands clenched.

I would observe closely for a while. If, in a few minutes, I saw the anger pass away, signs of thought and reason appear, the patient evidently explaining to himself that anger was not worth while if kept up indefinitely, I knew that my patient was on the road to recovery.

If, on the other hand, the storm of anger remained, if the patient nursed it, kept it alive, carried it along through hours and perhaps through the whole day and into the next, I knew that that patient was standing still or going back.

If you want to know men or women, study them in a bad temper. Then the mind is turned outward so that you can see it.

What the doctor said about the study of his insane patients ought to interest all human beings, especially those that have power, and are able, without fear of losing friends, money or position, to display ill nature.

No matter how important they may be or think themselves, they may be quite certain that the longer the fit of temper lasts with them, the weaker the mind is and the more in need of care.

Look out for yourself if you nurse ill temper, or the blues, or a fancied injury, with a tenderness that ought to be devoted only to a weanling child.

The human mind is like rubber, when it loses its elasticity, it is poor rubber and a weakened mind.

Judge yourself as the doctor judges maniacs.

More Truth Than Poetry

Uncle Bill and the Private Still

WE regarded it as risky
When our Uncle Bill
Said he'd brew his stock of whiskey
In a private still.
We assured him he was taking
An appalling chance
If he set about the making
Of intoxicants.

BUT our protests quite unheeded
With a wicked wink
He illicitly proceeded
To produce strong drink.
Soon he brought us the distressful
And alarming news
That his efforts were successful—
He had brewed the booze.

THOUGH disliking to offend him,
We expressed our fears
Lest the sheriff apprehend him
And he'd get ten years.
Nothing is detected quicker,
We told Uncle Bill,
Than the scent of home-made liquor
From a private still.

STORE your liquor if you've got to
Have it every day;
But we humbly beg you not to
Make it in this way.
How our fateful memory lingers
On the way he laughed
When he poured himself three fingers
And inhaled the draught.

WHY prolong a painful topic?
Fain we'd seek relief.
We're already misanthropic
Thinking of our grief.
Let us talk about the tariff,
Anything you will;
Undertaker, not the sheriff,
Got our Uncle Bill!

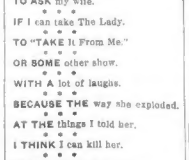
By K. C. B.

I HAD been introduced.
AND WE were sitting there.
AND I felt it my duty.
TO BE entertaining.
OR AT least to try it.
AND I told the lady something.
THAT "F. P. A." had said.
THAT VERY morning.
AND SHE clapped her hands.
AND ROSE up a little.
AND EXCLAIMED.
"I LOVE that!"
AND I was glad.
AND ENCOURAGED.
AND THEN said something.
THAT ONCE upon a time.
I HAD said myself.
AND SHE clapped her hands.
AND ROSE up a little.
AND EXCLAIMED.
"I LOVE that!"
AND I was glad again.
AND DOING well.
AND I tried an old one.
AND SHE clapped her hands.
AND ROSE up a little.
AND EXCLAIMED.
"I LOVE that!"
AND JUST then.
THERE CAME another man.
WHO HAD come to the party.
AND HE joined us.
AND MADE a funny remark.
ABOUT a red hat.
THAT HAD just come in.
AND THE Lady Beside Me.
CLAPPED HER hands.
AND ROSE up.
AND LOOKED at me.
AND EXCLAIMED.
"DON'T YOU LOVE that!"
◆ AND I didn't answer.
BECAUSE BY that time.
I WAS beginning to figure.
SHE WAS a trick lady.
AND HAS just been taught.
TO SAY "I love that."
AND "DON'T you love that!"
AND THE second man.
AND LEFT me there.
AND I started again.
AND TOLD some old ones.
THAT WERE in almanacs.
WHEN I was a child.
AND AFTER every one.
SHE'D CLAP her hands.
AND RAISE up a little.
AND EXCLAIM.
"I LOVE that!"
AND AFTER awhile.
I WAS led away.
AND I'VE made up my mind.
TO ASK my wife.
IF I can take The Lady.
TO "TAKE It From Me."
OR SOME other show.
WITH A lot of laughs.
BECAUSE THE way she exploded.
AT THE things I told her.
I THINK I can kill her.
WITH A bunch of good ones.
THROWN AT her fast.



I THANK you.

ZIONISM HAS CEASED TO BE, SAYS RABBI

By Dr. Stephen S. Wise

Dr. Stephen S. Wise, head of the commission of the Zionist Organization of America to the Peace Conference, has recently returned from abroad after important conferences with delegates to the Peace Conference and with Jewish leaders of France, England and Italy.

ZIONISM has ceased to be, for Zionism implies the necessity of a movement in order to bring the possibility of the establishment of a Jewish or Zionist Commonwealth before the eyes of the world, Jewish and non-Jewish. I may say without fear of contradiction that the establishment of a Jewish Palestine under the League of Nations and with the trusteeship that must obviously be granted to Great Britain is just as truly before the mind of European statesmen, and above all of American statesmen in Paris, as any other question which lies before them today.

Let it suffice to say that the wholly sympathetic and favoring attitude of President Wilson and Colonel House and their associates of the American peace deputation—and herein they represent the good-will and conscience of America—is shared by such European statesmanship in England, France and Italy and the lesser allied lands as counts.

Main Objectives

Two things will come out of the Peace Conference, and these two things after all are among the main objectives of the war. The overwhelming of Prussianism was nothing more than a means toward this high end or these high ends. These two things—and they are almost interchangeable—are the establishment of a League of Nations and the securing of independence for the smaller nations. If the war had not been fought in order to create such an alliance among the civilized peoples of the earth as would make the peace of justice possible hereafter, it would have become necessary for the allied nations to devise a method of guaranteeing and perpetuating the moral and political achievements of the war. The League of Nations means that the great nations, including our own, England, Italy and France, which have won the war, understand that in the future the right of a people to live is not to be determined by the size of its army or the might of its navy, but by its own will to live, the will to live predicate upon those conditions of nationality and history which are the test of the reality of the claims of a people to live its own life.

No Argument

I cannot bring myself to believe that it will be necessary to argue or plead on behalf of Jewish equality of status in European lands before the Peace Conference. A Peace Conference that would suffer a repetition of the Rumanian fiasco of 1878 would be a crime against history and the cause for which the allied peoples have bled. If the victory of 1918 meant more than a military feat, it must mean the end of those disabilities and inequities and injustices of which the Jew has too long been the victim in many European lands. Surely it is not chance that the nations that are together to decree the future of humanity are those in which the Jew stands out as enjoying equality of status with his fellow citizens. America and England, France and Italy will not do less than insist upon bringing within the domain of legal status that position which the Jew has of right long enjoyed in these lands.

WHAT WILL BE SOCIETY'S ATTITUDE?

Will Dr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Blake (who was Mrs. Clarence A. Mackay), on their return from their exile in France, receive the glad hand or the cold shoulder of society? Unusual moral and social problems are involved in that question. Beautiful Mrs. Mackay was divorced by her former husband after she and Dr. Blake admitted their greater love for one another, and at the same time the tongue of scandal wagged busily. After the marriage of the Blakes they fled the country, to seek respite from the scandalous whisperings in France. Now they are coming home—wondering, no doubt, what reception they will receive from fashionable society; and society is wondering, too, what attitude toward them to take! Read about it in the next

Latest from Bolshevism
The Bolshevist Makers
A Moral Hazard
New Circus Stunt

By Arthur Brisbane

(Copyright, 1919.)

The Peace League gentlemen, thanks to President Wilson's positive stand, appear to have settled something in the way of an Easter peace gift. The people will soon know what it is.

Mr. Trotzky invites Allied troops fighting him to come in and surrender, promising that he will treat them well.

And Mr. Lenine offers a Bolshevist army of 150,000 to Hungary to help the Bolshevist propaganda. Austria, for the time being, decides against Bolshevism—afraid the Allies won't like it. And in Bavaria the peasants, as might have been expected, fight the effort to make their kingdom a Bolshevist republic.

None the less, the Bolshevists, who have taken Odessa and seem to meet very little in the way of defeat, appear to have the best of it thus far.

A little real peace by Easter would be welcome, considering that at this moment, armistice or no armistice, there is fighting going on at twenty-seven different and important places.

A man stands on the corner and talks Bolshevism or anarchy. He is put in jail, although his influence is slight.

A street car corporation of New York city offers half a million to one State Senator for his vote, and nobody knows how many other half-millions to other public officials in the legislative and executive branches, for permission to take $18 a year in increased fare from every passenger.

That kind of thing makes Anarchists and Bolshevists wholesale. Does anybody go to jail for it?

News comes from Archangel, via the Associated Press, that a company of American troops recently declared they would not return to the front to go on fighting the Bolsheviks, saying they had been conscripted to fight Germany, not Russia, and that this country was not at war with the Bolshevik.

When their officers talked to them they consented to return and fight the Russians.

This is said to have disturbed United States officers, as indicating uncertain discipline. The French recently, according to Paris newspapers, had a more surprising experience. Officers of their army on the Russian front went over to the Bolshevik and sent back letters to France inviting the workers of France to join with the Bolsheviks and make the world perfect.

This suggestion does not appeal to Frenchmen as a whole. They want peace. They want, with interest, the thousands of millions that they lent to the old Russian government, and probably before the thing ends they will get them.

What is a "moral hazard?"

After July 1, unless something happens, tens of thousands of saloons will close. Insurance men talk about "moral hazard," which in the euphemistic fashion of expressing the insurance man's fear that the gentleman whose saloon is closed by Prohibition will set it afire to get the insurance money. The companies don't like to lose insurance premiums, but say they are "not soliciting renewals on saloon properties."

That is a new Prohibition problem.

You have seen circuses, dreamt about them as a child, and now when you see the red and purple picture of a rhinoceros ripping open the stomach of the elephant on the billboards, you have a queer, excited feeling.

The circus is on its travels again; bigger, of course, than ever. What do you suppose the public finds most interesting?

It is not giant, dwarf, lady with beard or man all tattooed. It is not, although it ought to be, our cousin, the chimpanzee. Everybody watches two men from Australia showing how rapidly they can cut through a huge log with axes.

The axes flash, cutting out chips four times as big as your hand, and in a few seconds the big tree is cut through.

THAT interests every man. For, in his ancestry, every man has been a woodchopper, a cutter down of the forest, and every man is interested in what was done by those before him.

Because our ancestors depended for their lives on what they caught in the water or killed in the forest, stout, bald men now go out and fish and shoot, calling it "sport," not knowing that it is irresistible, atavistic savagery.

New York watches the arrest in one day of six doctors supplying habit-forming drugs to thousands of miserable victims. Next day New York city sees a "drug clinic," where drug victims have poison given them in diminishing doses in hope of a cure. The majority of the victims are barely past their teens. And the "doctors" that sold the poison prescriptions gave them to anybody, asking no questions.

To make a man a drug fiend by taking his few dollars is a worse crime than murder. What will be done with the "doctors" that carry on the trade?
